CHICAGO DIGITAL NETWORK (CDN)

The Chicago Digital Network (CDN), administered by Municipal Marketing at the Chicago Department of Finance, is a sophisticated network of 33 high-quality LED digital display units located on City property along Chicago’s expressways. These digital displays come in 3 sizes:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Landscape</th>
<th>Landscape</th>
<th>Portrait</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>28 x 18 ft</td>
<td>18 x 58 ft</td>
<td>14 x 48 ft</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Displays are 1, 2 and 3 sided signs and there’s a total of 52 sign faces.

The City has partnered with Interstate JCDecaux to help install, maintain, and sell this network. Each digital display rotates eight (8), 10-second messages or advertisements. As part of our agreement, the City has retained 1/8th of the advertising inventory for Public Service Announcements (PSAs) or emergency messaging from the City of Chicago. DCASE has been utilizing this Public Service Announcement inventory to highlight its cultural programing and special events as well as collaborative marketing campaigns since the network was activated.

The City also has access to 59 digital City Information Panels (CIPs) through the Coordinated Street Furniture Program for important public messaging. These CIPs are two sided and the City has access to 1/8th of this inventory as well. The CIPs reach pedestrians and vehicular traffic alike at street level and are a valuable supplement to our digital messaging capabilities. Also included are displays on the City’s eight (8) BRT stations in the Central Business District. The panel dimensions are:
