

An economic engine & vital job center

Urban Design

Support a well-designed urban environment that welcomes businesses focused on technology, research and manufacturing to locate and coexist with existing businesses within the Industrial Corridor through urban design guidelines.

An economic engine & vital job center

Land Use and Urban Design

Support increases in density and height to encourage mixed-use development to result in high-quality publicly-accessible open space and non-vehicular transportation improvements.

