Is the city making specific promises about what future school closures there will or will not be?	The Education pillar does not make proposals about school closures or specific schools. It does include objectives aimed at supporting communities affected by school closures. For example, Objective 5.1: Ensure all K-12 schools can support opportunities for equitable, effective, rigorous and joyful learning, especially in communities affected by school closures. The policy ideas connected to this objective discuss resources for schools at risk of closure and developing a vision for repurposing closed or underutilized school buildings.
What effect will the plan have on charter schools?	The plan does not specifically mention charter schools, but many of the goals, objectives, and policy ideas related to Chicago Public Schools would apply to charter schools as well.
Is there any thought of offering free community college?	The draft plan does not include the idea of free community college. Be sure to share your ideas about what's missing on the We Will Chicago survey: www.wewillchicago.com/surveys
