WE WILL CHICAGO

Summary of Process for Research Team and Advisory Committee membership

July 2021
Background on the Application Process

In 2020, the City of Chicago Department of Planning and Development (DPD), initiated We Will Chicago, a 3-year citywide planning process through a series of community conversations with over 250 Chicagoans. Informed by this outreach, DPD and its consultants developed a policy and process for ensuring the participation of individuals and community-based organizations in the official structure for the We Will Chicago citywide plan.

In 2021, DPD and the Mayor’s Office conducted an open application process to identify individual volunteers and funded community partners to have formal roles on the seven Research Teams and Advisory Committee for We Will. Community Partners are community-based organizations who would be funded by the City ($15,000) to actively participate in the Teams as well as host 1-2 virtual or in-person community events to engage residents in the process.

Staff adapted the open application process from other similar City efforts, including the Department of Housing’s Inclusionary Housing Task Force and the City’s Mayoral Advisory Council on Equity.

The open application process was crafted to promote transparency and inclusion by allowing any resident of Chicago to apply to have a formal role in the process. Involvement in formal roles on the Advisory Committee and Research Teams is just one core strategy among many for overall community engagement and public comment to ensure Chicagoans have an opportunity to shape the plan and its recommendations.

Background on the Application Process

The open application process was announced at a public launch event on April 29, 2021, with an application period lasting between May 10, 2021 and June 3, 2021.

Applications were made available in both English and Spanish, and the City of Chicago's We Will Chicago planning team hosted two virtual application Q&A events to answer questions about the application and planning process.

The following channels were leveraged to promote the application process:
- Department of Planning & Development, Department of Public Health and "Our 77" citywide email listserv & social media including DPD’s Facebook, LinkedIn, Instagram, and Twitter.
- Aldermanic outreach (IGA email 5.17.21 and DPD reminder email 5.26.21)
- Networks of city departments and Sister agencies through the We Will Chicago Interagency Committee
- We Will Chicago webpage
- Metropolitan Planning Council (nonprofit) newsletter and website
Among others

Applications Received:
- 324 Volunteer applications
- 173 Community Partner applications
A cross-sector application Review Team was assembled from the nonprofit and private sector, city departments and consultants.

Criteria for Application Review

- Individual Applicants: Reviewers evaluated an applicant’s proven ability to actively contribute to research team needs; and to make related, positive contributions to the formation of a citywide plan.

- Community Partner Applicants: Reviewers evaluated an applicant’s proven ability to advocate for the interests of the people it represents; to actively contribute to research team needs; to host community meetings; and to make related, positive contributions to the formation of a citywide plan.
Instructions Provided to Reviewers

- Review all of the answers including the demographics that the organization serves and the contents of the letters of support.
- This process should center a wide array of voices / perspectives to inform the citywide plan and complement ongoing community engagement initiatives.
- We want community partners and volunteers to represent broad geographies and/or groups of people, such as youth, seniors, Black Indigenous or People of Color (BIPOC), low-income individuals, LGBTQIA individuals, immigrants, refugees, people with disabilities, homeless individuals, previously incarcerated, and people with limited English proficiency.
- The quantity of support materials (ex. letters of support for Community Partners) should not reflect negatively for your reviews.

Application Review Goals & Assignments

Application Review Process Goals

• Each application was read by three reviewers with about 1,500 total reviews
• Each application was reviewed by one External Reviewer and two representatives from either the City or the consultant team
• An anti-bias training was included as part of an orientation for all application Reviewers

Review Assignments

• Applications were randomly assigned to Reviewers, with a process for declarations of Conflicts of Interest and abstainions from any assignments (if applicable)
• External Reviewers were assigned 20 applications each
Application Review Process

- DPD randomly assigned applications to Reviewers and provided the following materials:
  - Rubric directions
  - List of applications to score
  - All submitted application materials, including a letter of support for Community Partners
- Reviewers assessed applications using the criteria on the prior slide with a structured numeric rubric
- DPD distributed average score data and original application answers (including demographic information) to the Selection Committee
  - The Committee also received maps showing geographic distribution of applications to assist with final selection
- DPD compiled score data for Selection Committee
  - Selected 25 community partners
  - Selected 115 volunteers
  - Revised map showing the distribution of and demographics of selected volunteers and Community Partners to ensure strong overall citywide representation
- Selection Committee reviewed score data and proposed
  - Selected Committee sent proposed volunteer and community partner selections to reviewer team for comment
  - Collected feedback and comments on proposed selections and process
  - Finalized volunteer and community partner selections
- Selections finalized
Selection Process

1. A Selection Team was formed consisting of two Mayor’s Office staff, two DPD staff and two nonprofit/CBO Advisory Committee co-chairs.

2. DPD prepared two spreadsheets for each Pillar (7) and the Advisory Committee for the Selection Team to review in making final decisions.
   a. Community Partner applications listed in descending order by total score (90 points max)
   b. Volunteer applications listed in descending order by total score (90 points max)
