CLASS TITLE: INTELLIGENCE ANALYST

CHARACTERISTICS OF THE CLASS
Under general supervision, the class performs specialized, confidential research and analytical work to provide crime and intelligence information and data in support of law enforcement activities including criminal investigations, patrol operations and crime prevention, and performs related duties as required.

The work of the Intelligence Analyst is of a highly and confidential nature due to the restricted and classified data received within the Chicago Police Department’s Crime Prevention Information Center (CPIC). Positions in the class report to a Police Sergeant or higher rank.

ESSENTIAL DUTIES

- Develops strategies and methods and follows established CPIC and departmental procedures in collecting, organizing and charting classified and restricted intelligence information.
- Performs detailed research and analysis of criminal intelligence information, analyzing data, writing reports and developing links between criminals and crime groups or patterns of criminal activity for use by law enforcement personnel, City departments and other outside agencies.
- Researches, compiles and organizes criminal intelligence information and statistics using various database systems, Internet searches, and other sources to support investigations (e.g., investigative interviews, academic research, newspapers).
- Analyzes and evaluates criminal intelligence information and data received from a variety of sources (e.g., local, state and federal law enforcement agencies, databases, public records) to assess the reliability of sources and the validity of content.
- Applies inductive and deductive reasoning in analyzing data, and translates into viable criminal intelligence information for use in investigations and other law enforcement purposes.
- Prepares graphic presentations of data (e.g., charts, graphs, and matrices), presenting criminal intelligence information with organized facts and statistics to provide investigative leads to suspects, crimes or criminal organizations.
- Authors and prepares for distribution various informational bulletins and other informational materials related to office safety alerts, briefings and other law enforcement messages and alerts.
- Compiles investigative information case files and packets on specific criminal cases such as murders and shootings.
- Designs, uses and maintains databases and software applications, such as geographic information systems (GIS) and artificial intelligence tools.
- Provides oral briefings, court testimony and other presentations and trainings on analytical products and techniques.
- Responds to requests for information and acts as a liaison with law enforcement organizations and agencies for the purpose of information sharing, community policing, and crime prevention strategies.
- Stays abreast of current events and activities and participates in seminars, webinars and other activities for professional development purposes.
