CHICAGO CONSULAR CORPS

The mission of the Chicago Consular Corps is to safeguard the interests, rights and privileges of its members and members of their respective communities; to promote cooperation and friendly relations with the Federal, State, County and Municipal authorities, as well as with the business community, cultural and civic institutions; and to promote solidarity, friendship and cooperation between its members and the local community, and consequently to create and engender an "esprit de corps." The Corps consists of all career and honorary consular officers presently appointed by a foreign government to their consular position in metropolitan Chicago and as such recognized by the U.S. Department of State.
