Subject: RE: Waived fee for Open Data workshop - 9/24/2019

The event, which I attended in my official capacity, was yesterday, 9/24/2019, 9-11 am at the Evanston Civic Center. It was a roundtable discussion of open data and related subjects. I accepted a muffin, a cup of coffee, and several stickers. The questions on the registration page appear to have been misleading – perhaps standard questions for all events in this series, even if shirts and more substantial food are not offered at all of them.
