Subject: RE: Conference Travel

Hi Steve,

Happy Friday. I've returned from the conference below on Wednesday evening. I went in my official capacity to Decatur Georgia for the SLTL Conference held by the CDC from June 12-14, 2023. The CDC booked airline for all attendees and flew me out from Chicago to Atlanta the day prior, June 11, 2023. The CDC paid airline and are reimbursing for hotel and transportation (uber, taxis, and the like) expenses to and from the airport and hotel to and from CDC conference site and provided a per diem for meals and incidentals. To my knowledge, CDPH nor the City of Chicago incurred any costs due to my attendance of this conference.

Please let me know if you need additional information.
