Subject: Question re: CSBI Lunch and Learn

Steve,

Good morning.

My team within the City's Department of Finance currently has four summer interns. These interns are high school students that have been placed with the City through the Chicago Summer Business Institute (CSBI). For context, CSBI places approximately 30-50 disadvantaged high school students in financial services internships in both the public and private sectors for a length of six weeks.

CSBI is, in partnership with AmeriVet Securities, hosting a "lunch and learn" for these high school interns across the City on July 24 at Maggiano's Little Italy on 516 N Clark Street. The purpose of the event is for the 30-50 interns to build connections with past interns and hear speakers in the financial services industry. AmeriVet Securities is a municipal bond underwriting firm.

If allowable, I would like to attend this event alongside the four (4) interns that we have in our office this summer.

Can you please let me know what information you might need in order to analyze this event and avoid potential conflicts of interest?

Thank you.

-Steven
