MAYOR EMANUEL AND NAVY PIER KICK-OFF FIFTH THIRD BANK CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION® WITH OPENING OF NEW CENTENNIAL WHEEL

Mayor Rahm Emanuel today joined Navy Pier President and CEO Marilynn Kelly Gardner and students from Ogden International School to officially open Chicago’s new icon, the Centennial Wheel. The Wheel opens to the public today at noon, kicking off the Pier’s Fifth Third Bank Centennial Celebration®.

At nearly 200-feet tall, the Centennial Wheel is 50-feet taller than its predecessor, accommodates up to 180 more passengers per ride and is operational 365 days a year thanks to temperature-controlled gondolas and the latest in attraction technology.

“Today we are honoring Chicago’s history as the birthplace of the Ferris Wheel, while we celebrate the centennial of Navy Pier,” Mayor Emanuel said. “But just as important, with the opening of this Centennial Wheel we are beginning a future for Navy Pier that will be even better than its past.”

“America’s next great Wheel is opening here at Navy Pier, befitting for Chicago as the birthplace of the very first Ferris wheel and befitting for Navy Pier as we commemorate 100 years of being the ‘People’s Pier,’” Gardner said. “We are honored to mark the beginning of our next 100 years with the opening of the Centennial Wheel. It is with great pride that we take the first rides and, with each spin, we celebrate its past while continuing to progress toward the future.”

The Centennial Wheel will light up the Chicago skyline nightly thanks to LED technology on the spokes and rim. Show times for the light show will vary and will be coordinated with the Pier’s Aon Summer Fireworks on Wednesdays and Saturdays and other fireworks shows that are held. Images of the Centennial Wheel are available here.

Guests can choose from expanded ticket options, including all-day rides, discounts for military and children, “fast pass” tickets and special free and Illinois resident discounted rides on special dates.
Today marks the completion of the first phase of Navy Pier’s comprehensive redesign and redevelopment as announced by Navy Pier’s leadership team as a part of Mayor Rahm Emanuel’s Elevate Chicago Tourism Initiative in 2013.

Year-long festivities will include unveilings of park enhancements, new programming and special events, Chicago dining options, and compelling landscape and design features that will continue to elevate the Pier’s status as an iconic destination.

“Navy Pier is an icon in Chicago,” Navy Pier, Inc., Chairman William J. Brodsky said. “This new Centennial Wheel is one of many examples of the continuing investment we are making in the Pier’s future to ensure that Navy Pier remains the top leisure destination and a source of pride for every single person who visits Navy Pier.”

Fifth Third Bank Partnership
Recently, Navy Pier proudly welcomed Fifth Third Bank as the title sponsor of the Fifth Third Bank Centennial Celebration® at Navy Pier.

“We are so pleased and proud to join Navy Pier as a partner in this historic celebration of 100 years,” said Robert Sullivan, Regional President and CEO, Fifth Third Bank. “We’re honored to support this landmark and its guests and join Navy Pier in inviting the people of Chicago and beyond to enjoy Navy Pier in a whole new way.”

Redevelopment of Navy Pier
In celebration of this achievement and the Centennial milestone, the Pier will host a summer packed with inaugural activities, ceremonies, festivals and events.

“We have many partners to thank, including the world-renowned architect teams at James Corner Field Operations and Gensler, which have led the physical transformation of the Pier resulting in spectacular changes to our open spaces and the introduction of public programs and water features,” said Gardner. “And we thank Fifth Third Bank for being a tremendous partner and supporting what will be a celebration to remember for millions of guests this year and beyond.”

“We are excited to celebrate the completion of the first-phase transformation of Navy Pier and the return of a new ‘People’s Pier,’” says James Corner of James Corner Field Operations. “We have reimagined South Dock as a new green spine that extends all the way from Lake Michigan back into the city and anchors a series of plazas, museums, theaters, restaurants, and social destinations that exemplify the vitality of Chicago life and culture. Together these places render the Pier as a newly sustainable, authentic, and world-class center of activity and culture tied back into the very essence that is Chicago.”

In addition to the Centennial Wheel, new features and enhancements include:

- Polk Bros Fountain and Plaza: Navy Pier will unveil its dramatically transformed entrance with the introduction of the new Polk Bros Fountain and Plaza Friday, May 27. The Fountain and Plaza were made possible by the Polk Brothers Foundation, who generously donated $20 million in 2014 to rename and redevelop the park that serves as the gateway to Navy Pier. The inviting new plaza and signature fountain will turn on for the first time Friday, May 27 at 1:30 p.m., anchoring Polk Bros Park’s newly expanded green space. With more than 150 programmable jets, the fountain will mimic the movements of waves, schools of fish, or flocks of birds providing variety and interest. During the winter months, the fountain will convert to an ice skating rink. The rest of the park development will be completed in 2017.

- South Dock Transformation: The completed transformation of the South Dock has resulted in one of the most beautiful stretches of open space in Chicago. This enhanced, environmentally friendly space provides guests with room for more enjoyable strolls and runs a mile east into Lake Michigan, with spectacular, unobstructed views of Chicago and stronger connectivity to water, all while increasing Navy Pier’s commitment to sustainability. The project is on track to be one of the first SITES® certified projects in the world. Managed by the US Green Building Council, SITES® is the newest and most comprehensive international system for developing and evaluating sustainable landscapes.

- Elevated Dining Experience: Navy Pier now features one of the top dining experiences in the city by expanding its South Arcade. The redesigned Food Experience opens up to uninhibited views of the lake with a curvaceous “wave wall” and provides a variety of authentic Chicago cuisine via partnerships with some of the most popular local restaurants. Restaurants include Big Bowl Chinese Express, Big City Chicken, DMK Burger Bar and Fish Bar, Frankie’s Pizza by the Slice, Freshii, Goddess and the Baker, Porkchop, Original Rainbow Cone and Snow Dragon Shavery. Set to open this summer is Tiny Tavern, a new location of the popular North Side bar, Tiny Lounge, and additional new Chicago-based restaurants to be announced later this year.

- Getting Here: Navy Pier has made a number of transportation enhancements to make visiting the Pier easier for all, whether traveling by car, foot or public transportation. New bike share and bike parking options are available close to the entrance of the South Dock. Navy Pier garages have 1,500 spaces for parking for flat all-day rates, and drivers can now reserve spots in Navy Pier’s garages via Click and Park, a guaranteed parking feature available online at navypier.com. Discounted validated parking is also available at nearby Grand Plaza Park (540 N. State) and Ogden Plaza Self Park (300 E. North Water) garages for $15 when validated at Navy Pier. Guests are now also alerted to the number of parking spaces available at the Pier through enhanced digital signage. Other Pier improvements include dedicated Lyft and Uber locations, improved traffic lanes, free electric shuttles along the pier and expanded free trolley service. Guests can also access Navy Pier through improved pedestrian access, in addition to Divvy and CTA options.

Summer 2016 Events

The Fifth Third Bank Centennial Celebration® at Navy Pier will include unforgettable summer events for guests of all ages:

Navy Pier is in the process of developing its Arts and Discovery strategic plan organized around the “pillars” of Arts, Culture and History, Environment and Community and will announce details of its pilot program later this summer.

• A key element of the Pier’s Centennial Vision will be transforming the Family Pavilion into a more open and refreshed space, mirroring the design of the South Arcade, and with a focus on retail.
