I. EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

As a recipient of federal entitlement grant funds from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD), the City of Chicago is required to submit an annual Consolidated Annual Performance and Evaluation Report (CAPER). The 2013 CAPER reports on the City of Chicago's progress in achieving priorities and goals set forth in the 2010-2014 Consolidated Plan and the 2013 Action Plan.

The Consolidated Plan is a five year strategic planning document that identifies the City of Chicago's affordable housing and community development needs, and each annual Action Plan describes planned projects and activities and how funds will be used for a given year of the Consolidated Plan. In its 2010-2014 Consolidated Plan, the City of Chicago identified the following priorities:

- Developing, rehabilitating, and preserving affordable housing;
- Providing public services, including mental health services; HIV/AIDS prevention; workforce development; domestic violence resources; disability resources; senior, youth, and homeless services, to low- and moderate-income residents;
- Expanding economic opportunities for low- and moderate-income residents; and
- Demolishing or clearing homes or buildings that are hazardous and uninhabitable.

For program year 2013, the City of Chicago received funds from the following entitlement grant programs:

| Entitlement Fund | 2013 Award |
|---------------------------------------------|-------------------|
| Community Development Block Grant | $73,834,686 |
| Emergency Solutions Grant | $5,243,387 |
| HOME Investment Partnership | $16,059,598 |
| Housing Opportunities for Persons with AIDS | $6,107,650 |
| Total | $101,245,321 |

Substantial Amendment to the 2010-2014 Consolidated Plan and 2013 Action Plan

On August 8, 2013, the City of Chicago issued an amendment to the 2010-2014 Consolidated Plan and 2013 Action Plan following a reduction in the Emergency Solutions Grant (ESG). The 2013 ESG award was reduced by 20%, or $1.3 million, from the 2012 award. As a result, the City was required to amend the anticipated funding and performance outcomes originally reported. The substantial amendment was posted to the City of Chicago website and published in three local newspapers, including one Spanish language newspaper, for a 30-day public comment period in accordance with the Citizen Participation Plan. The City of Chicago received one public comment.

Summary of Resources and Distribution of Funds

In addition to entitlement grant funds, the City budgets program income, reprogrammed funds, and grant match funds to further the objectives of the 2010-2014 Consolidated Plan and the 2013 Action Plan. The table below identifies the amounts budgeted by each category. In 2013, a total of $187 million was allocated to eligible projects and activities in census tracts identified by HUD as low- and moderate-income. For details regarding expenditures, see the CDBG Financial Summary Report (PR 26) at Appendix 1 of this document.

| ENTITLEMENT PROGRAM | 2013 AWARDS | PROGRAM INCOME | REPROGRAMMED FUNDS | PROGRAM MATCH |
|----------------------------|----------------------|-----------------------|---------------------------|----------------------|
| CDBG | $73,834,686 | $3,319,500 | $6,111,814 | N/A |
| ESG | $ 5,243,387 | N/A | N/A | $5,243,387 |
| HOME | $16,059,598 | $427,729 | $61,782,844 | $7,471,478 |
| HOPWA | $ 6,107,650 | N/A | N/A | N/A |
| TOTAL | $101,245,321 | $3,747,229 | $67,894,658 | $14,036,973 |

II. YEAR FOUR ASSESSMENT OF PROGRESS

The City made steady progress toward its five-year goals in 2013 by efficiently and effectively using entitlement funds and leveraging other funding sources.

Through its housing programs, the City met or exceeded expectations in the following areas:

- Making accessibility modifications to 31 units for low-income homeowners with disabilities, meeting the 2013 goal.
- Rehabbing 2,977 affordable rental units in abandoned buildings, exceeding the goal by 2,077 units or 331% of the 2013 goal.
- Rehabbing 347 single family units, exceeding the goal by 237 or 315% of the 2013 goal.
- Providing housing counseling to 29,050 individuals to expand or preserve affordable housing, exceeding the goal by 11,050 individuals served or 161% of the 2013 goal.
- Assisting 113 individuals in fair housing adjudications, exceeding the goal by 43 individuals or 161% of the 2013 goal.

Through its homeless services, the City met or exceeded expectations by providing the following services to the City's homeless population:

- Emergency shelter services to 8,090 individuals, exceeding the goal by 7,190 or 899% of the 2013 goal.
- Emergency human services to 12,922 unsheltered chronically homeless individuals, exceeding the goal by 11,087 or 704% of the 2013 goal.
- Emergency rent payments to 1,683 individuals, exceeding the goal by 1,464 or 768% of the 2013 goal.
- Primary health care to 510 homeless individuals, exceeding the goal by 145 individuals or 140% of the 2013 goal.

With funds provided to assist individuals with HIV and AIDS of low to moderate income, the City provided funding for housing needs or support program to 1,720 individuals, exceeding 2013 goals by 1,272 or 384% of the 2013 goal. In addition, the City engaged 14,179 youth in afterschool and other life enriching programming. Also, the City provided emergency food boxes and infant formula to over 162,000 individuals, exceeding the 2013 goal by approximately 150,000 individuals served or 1,258%.

While many programs met or exceeded expectations, other activities fell short of the projected targets. The City recognizes the need for improvement in provision of the following areas to individuals of low to moderate income: emergency repairs and correction of hazardous conditions; in-home advocacy and support to at-risk or neglected seniors; arresting the decline of affordable housing unit in low to moderate income areas through code enforcements; and improving economic opportunities for low-income persons through job training and placement. In addition, due to a redefinition of how HIV/AIDS prevention services are counted, the City has revised the projected number of individuals served through this program for 2014 to eliminate duplicate counting.

Sections VII-XI of this report provide a performance summary, by entitlement and City department, of all programs and activities receiving formula grant funds in program year 2013.

III. 2013 PROGRAM YEAR HIGHLIGHTS

A. Fair Housing

The City departments primarily responsible for implementing the City's plan for affirmatively furthering fair housing are the Commission on Human Relations, the Mayor's Office for People with Disabilities (MOPD), the Department of Housing and Economic Development (DHED), known as the Department of Planning and Development (DPD) beginning January 1, 2014, and the Chicago Housing Authority (CHA).

The Commission on Human Relations' (Commission) mission is to prevent discrimination and promote mutual understanding and respect among all who live and work in the City of Chicago. The Commission investigates and adjudicates complaints of discrimination under the Chicago Fair Housing Ordinance¹ (Fair Housing Ordinance) and the Chicago Human Rights Ordinance and addresses hate crimes and community tensions that can escalate into hate crimes. The Commission also provides educational programs and workshops on a variety of topics to promote respect for diversity and mutual understanding. The Commission has three advisory councils, Equity, Women and LGBT, and Veterans' Affairs, that encourage citizen participation and support initiatives to promote unity and fight against discriminatory policies and practices.

1.) Enforcement of the Chicago Fair Housing Ordinance

The Adjudication Division of the Commission receives complaints filed under the Fair Housing Ordinance, conducts investigations, facilitates voluntary settlements, and provides an administrative adjudicatory process for cases in which substantial evidence of discrimination is found after investigation. If the Commission determines after a hearing that discrimination has occurred, it may impose a fine, order injunctive relief, and award compensatory and punitive damages.

Complaint Filings in 2013

In 2013, the Commission received 113 new complaints alleging violations of the Fair Housing Ordinance. For the third year in a row, the number of total housing discrimination complaints increased, in part based on the number of “source of income” complaints filed, which accounted for 49% of all housing discrimination claims. The Commission saw a 17% increase in the total number of complaints brought in 2013 over 2012. After source of income, “race” and “disability” remained the most frequently alleged types of housing discrimination, 16% and 12%, respectively. Sex discrimination claims were the basis of 3% of complaints in 2013. Claims based on the remaining protected categories made up 3% or less of 2013 complaints. Last year also saw a rise in the types of claims brought. In 2013, “parental status” and “age discrimination” claims were alleged in four cases and “discrimination based on color” in three cases. This is up from one and zero, respectively, in 2012. The breakdown of complaints by type of discrimination alleged is shown in the chart below.

Basis of Claims for Fair Housing Ordinance Complaints Filed in 2013

| Discrimination Claimed | Number of Cases Containing Claim² | % of New Cases Containing Claim³ |
|-------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------|
| Race | 19 | 16% |
| Color | 3 | 3% |
| National Origin | 2 | 2% |
| Ancestry | 1 | 1% |
| Religion | 3 | 3% |

| Marital Status | 0 | 0% |
| Sexual Orientation | 4 | 4% |
| Gender Identity | 2 | 2% |
| Age | 4 | 4% |

² Because complainants may allege more than one type of discrimination in their complaints, the number of claims listed in the chart is larger than the number of complaints filed.

³ The percentage figures show the percentage of new complaints containing a claim of discrimination on the basis named.

| Total New Complaints Filed | 116 | |

Source of income discrimination claims usually involve a refusal to rent to people who intend to use Housing Choice Vouchers (also known as Section 8 vouchers) to support their rent. The Fair Housing Ordinance has been held by the Illinois Appellate Court to include this voucher within its definition of a source of income. This increase in filings reflects the decrease in the level of project-based subsidized housing available. Voucher holders are increasingly turning to new communities in search of safe and quality housing and are turned away by landlords who will not accept Housing Choice Vouchers. This was very evident in 2013 when the Commission received a number of complaints from individuals attempting to move into “opportunity areas” under CHA’s mobility program. As a result, more voucher holders are seeking redress through the Commission. Fair housing advocates remain concerned about the level of ongoing discrimination against voucher holders, which results in more complainants being referred to the Commission.

Activity in Pending Cases

Fifteen housing discrimination complaints under investigation resulted in a finding of substantial evidence of a violation and went to the administrative stage of review. In 2013, the Commission closed a total of 102 housing discrimination cases.

- 33 cases were closed because the disputing parties settled, which the Commission encourages and facilitates by holding a settlement conference with one of its contracted independent mediators. Voluntary settlements often result in quicker and greater relief for complainants than formal Board of Commissioners rulings.
- 30 housing discrimination cases were closed based on a finding of no substantial evidence of discrimination after investigation of the complaint.
- 39 cases were dismissed: 1 for lack of jurisdiction, 11 for failure of the complainant to cooperate with the Commission’s process; and 27 because the complainant voluntarily withdrew their complaint.
- 8 cases were scheduled for administrative hearings, but all of the cases settled prior to or during the administrative hearing process.

2.) Additional Fair Housing Assistance Provided by the Commission

The Commission’s housing discrimination investigators and the Director of Fair Housing Compliance answer numerous telephone inquiries from the public. They furnish basic information on the Fair Housing Ordinance, assistance on how to file a complaint, and provide referrals for additional or alternative resources to address callers’ needs. Adjudication staff also participates in outreach to inform the public about the Fair Housing Ordinance, which include

City-sponsored programs such as aldermanic community meetings and resource fairs for seniors, people with disabilities, and other groups. The staff also conducted presentations at the Mexican Consulate providing assistance and information to Spanish speaking residents.

The Role of the Inter-Group Relations Unit

A key component of the Commission's fair housing efforts is its Inter-Group Relations (IGR) unit. IGR mediates conflicts; advocates on behalf of victims of hate crimes; and proactively works to prevent discrimination through educational programs in schools and communities most at risk for violence based on bias and stereotypes. Through its work, IGR promotes stable communities and addresses issues that impact the City's fair housing efforts. IGR is called to assist families in crisis due to racial, ethnic, religious, and other types of tensions in their communities. In 2013, IGR responded to 62 requests for intervention in the community, an increase of 55% over 2012. Some of these families are CHA clients who have been relocated to neighborhoods where they are confronted with racial harassment, which may even escalate into property damage and violence. IGR works closely with CHA to assist these families in crisis to provide the support and resources they need to stabilize their living environment.

Additionally, in 2013, IGR conducted 335 mediation-related meetings and assisted hate crime victims in 56 reported hate incidents. Staff also conducted 66 workshops (an increase of 100% over 2012), and 235 presentations (an increase of 123%), and distributed 24,391 brochures (an increase of 113%) in English, Spanish, Polish, and Chinese to community-based organizations throughout the city to educate Chicagoans about the Human Rights and Fair Housing Ordinances.

Educating Chicagoans about Their Rights and Remedies

The Commission also regularly develops one-page flyers on various legal topics that explain the law in concise and simple terms. In 2012, the Commission added a new fair housing flyer, Section 8 Vouchers and Source of Income Discrimination. The series already includes a flyer on Sources of Fair Housing Training. In addition, to ensure that Chicagoans are aware of all available remedies for housing discrimination, the Commission – in conjunction with the Cook County Commission on Human Relations, the Illinois Department of Human Rights, and HUD's Chicago Office – recently updated a chart outlining the coverage and filing procedures under the anti-discrimination laws enforced by each of these agencies. The chart is widely distributed by the agencies and by legal assistance organizations. It is also available on the Commission's website: www.cityofchicago.org/humanrelations.

To assist complainants in obtaining legal representation, the Commission distributes a list of Chicago-area organizations that provide free legal counsel in housing discrimination cases. These include the John Marshall Law School Fair Housing Legal Clinic, the Lawyers Committee for Better Housing, the Chicago Coalition for the Homeless, Access Living (serving persons with disabilities), and LAF (the Legal Assistance Foundation of Metropolitan Chicago). These organizations also handle discrimination cases in other forums that enforce county, state, and federal laws prohibiting housing discrimination.

3.) The Role of DPD and City Agencies in Furthering Fair Housing

DPD and other City agencies play key roles in affirmatively furthering fair housing. For example, to reduce discriminatory practices, the City requires developers who receive public funds and individual homeowners to sign an anti-discrimination clause when hiring contractors or renting to tenants. DPD's Monitoring and Compliance Division is charged with tracking and monitoring the implementation of this clause.

DPD also monitors the Affirmative Housing Marketing Regulations for approved developers. Under these regulations, a developer must make efforts to attract prospective buyers or tenants from all groups, minority and non-minority, regardless of race, color, religion, gender, or national origin. These marketing activities must be approved by DPD prior to approval of the funding application.

In partnership with organizations that represent both tenants and landlords, DPD established the "Chicago Rents Right" campaign to provide Chicagoans information and assistance on the legal rights and responsibilities of tenants and property owners. DPD has also posted on its web site a Rental Housing Resource List that identifies housing opportunities available throughout the City for seniors and people with disabilities.

DPD programs are available to for-profit and not-for-profit developers and the Chicago community at large. Notices are sent regularly to community development organizations, institutions of higher education, and others, informing of funding opportunities through various government and private sources for the development and preservation of affordable housing and community development. DPD disseminates information about the City's programs at community meetings and other events. Homebuyers participating in DPD programs receive home ownership counseling that covers education on fair housing and the challenges and rewards of being a homeowner. A "Summary of Impediments to Fair Housing" can be found in Appendix 10.

B. Affordable Housing

In 2013, the City completed the final year of the City's Five-Year Affordable Housing Plan covering the years 2009-2013. Over the course of the year, DPD committed a total of $359,727,977 to create, preserve or maintain 5,673 units⁴ in affordable housing projects. Ten strategic goals drive the City's affordable housing initiatives:

1. Chicago should continue to be a city of strong affordable neighborhoods, with good housing, schools, parks, libraries and shopping districts.
2. Affordable housing is an asset to every neighborhood and to the city as a whole because it ensures that Chicago continues to be a home for people of all ages and socio-economic backgrounds.
3. Affordable housing builds healthy neighborhoods by helping to create new retail stores, restaurants, and other neighborhood amenities. When City government brings public improvements to a neighborhood, the existing housing becomes more attractive to low- and moderate income families.

⁴ Please Note: Unit counts provided in this CAPER are based on funding commitments and project approvals and may not exactly correspond to the number of units recorded in HUD's Integrated Disbursement and Information System (IDIS) or Table 3A Summary of Specific Annual Objectives at the time of this report.

4. Affordable housing is good for the economy and the entire city because it allows low- and moderate-income families to spend more money on other items, including education. Affordable housing also creates jobs in construction and building management.
5. Affordability means more than just the cost of rent or a family's mortgage payment. It also takes into account when a home is less expensive to build and operate, uses less energy, local property taxes are reasonable, and nearby public transit option reduce dependence on or need for cars.
6. Government support is necessary to ensure an adequate supply of affordable housing in Chicago. Government's role should be to work in partnership with the private and not-for-profit sectors.
7. While homeownership has many positive effects on a city, it is not for everyone. The most critical need in Chicago is for affordable rental housing for those at the lower end of the economic spectrum.
8. Supportive housing will remain a high priority. Many Chicagoans need social services in addition to housing, to help them turn their lives around.
9. DPD will continue to direct the majority of resources toward the neediest individuals and families.
10. DPD will continue to be flexible, creative and open to new ideas.

1.) Protecting Chicago's Affordable Housing Stock

Assistance for Troubled Buildings and Home Repair

In 2013, DPD deployed HUD dollars in the City's troubled buildings and home repair and improvement initiatives. DPD, in partnership with Community Investment Corporation (CIC), administers a multi-family housing preservation program known as the Troubled Buildings Initiative (TBI) that works to preserve at-risk rental units through the designation of receivers to take over deteriorating properties. Under this program in 2013, 935 rental units were either rehabbed with public or private financing or a combination of both or placed in receivership to prevent further deterioration and enable future rehabilitation. This total slightly exceeded the 2013 goal

⁵ These are net unit counts based on actual funding commitments for each program and adjusted for units assisted under multiple programs. Before adjustment for multi-counting, the gross total of units assisted under all programs was 12,110. Of this total, 9,080 were multi-family and 3,030 were single-family units.

In addition, CIC administers the TBI-Condominium program, under which vacant and distressed condominium buildings are acquired and de-converted to rental apartments. The acquired properties are transferred to developers who rehabilitate the properties and hold them as affordable rental buildings. Originally funded through the Community Development Block Grant-Recovery (CDBG-R) program in 2009, 2013 funding reflects program income earned in that year. In 2013, 22 units were acquired and 8 buildings (107 units) were transferred to developers in 2013. A list of the properties acquired will be included in the final 2013 CAPER on April 1, 2014. DPD also operates a similar TBI single-family program in partnership with the Neighborhood Housing Services Redevelopment Corporation. Under this program, 174 units were repaired and stabilized, rehabilitated, or placed in receivership. This total exceeded the 2013 program goal.

The Emergency Housing Assistance Program (EHAP) committed funds for emergency roof, porch, and heating repairs that helped preserve 640 units of low-income, owner-occupied housing. Because of an increase in construction costs, the number of units served fell slightly below the originally projected goal of 650 units. Through the Small Accessible Repairs for Seniors program (SARFS, formerly known as H-RAIL), DPD furnished enabling devices and other improvements to 532 residences, consistent with projections. For this program, increased construction costs led to a small reduction from the previous year in the number of units that could be served. Also in 2013, 484 renter households under 80 percent of AMI had heat and utility services restored to their apartments through the CDBG-funded Heat Receiver Program.

Additionally, two programs target housing preservation and creation. The Bungalow Initiative Standard Designs program helps preserve this historic housing stock by allowing owners to purchase pre-approved renovation designs for $5. The Preserving Communities Together program reduces land costs to developers by expediting the process wherein the City can take possession of vacant, abandoned buildings and turn them over to an approved party for the express purpose of creating affordable housing.

Inspection of Troubled and Hazardous Buildings

In 2013, DOB inspected 11,338 properties, which includes both hazardous and abandoned buildings, in response to requests or complaints from residents. These inspections serve to curtail neighborhood deterioration and preserve affordable housing stock, which fosters suitable living environments for residents of low- and moderate-income areas. Building Code compliance is enforced through Housing Court and the City's Administrative Hearing process. The City boarded up approximately 1,459 vacant buildings to reduce criminal activity in these buildings, ensure the safety of local residents, and curtail the decline of property values. Demolition orders were entered for 549 abandoned properties that had deteriorated beyond repair.

2.) Eliminating Barriers to Affordable Housing

The City of Chicago has implemented a number of programs, policies, and procedures that remove barriers to affordable housing and support the goals of the City's Five-Year Affordable Housing Plan and the Consolidated Plan. The following programs all encourage the creation of new affordable housing units.

- Chicago Partnership for Affordable Neighborhoods (CPAN) – Developers participating in this program receive expedited permitting and assistance in identifying qualified homebuyers if at least 10 percent of the units in the market-rate development are affordable.
- The Affordable Requirements Ordinance (ARO) – Under ARO, residential developments using City land or requesting zoning changes to increase density in planned developments of 10 or more units must ensure that at least 10 percent of units be affordable.
- City Lots for City Living – Under this program the City sells vacant, City-owned property for $1 if the land will be used for affordable housing purposes.
- DPD’s Downtown Affordable Housing Density Bonus – Downtown developers that agree to provide affordable housing units in the development are allowed to increase the size of the building.
- The City’s Redevelopment Project Area Properties Program – City-owned properties located in designated redevelopment project areas can receive a write-down from appraised value if they provide tangible public benefits such as affordable housing units, creating incentives to increase the number of affordable housing units in the City.
- DPD’s Developer Services Program – This program allocates funds to developers to increase the amount of affordable multi-family housing included in both new construction and rehab projects. In 2013, DPD committed $34 million in loans to create or preserve 922 rental units in affordable housing developments. 96% of these units are for residents whose incomes do not exceed 60% of AMI.

In addition, initiatives through DOB have created efficiencies in the permitting process that contribute to the availability of quality affordable housing in the city. Chicago is one of the first cities to have permit applications for residential and small commercial developments available online. Developers and residents can receive online permits to replace existing mechanical equipment or building components that do not require architectural plans, as long as they are in compliance with City codes and are using licensed contractors. Through DOB, licensed architects can also voluntarily comply with simple corrections to the City’s Standard Plan Review process. This eliminates the need for owners or developers to return to DOB to demonstrate simple corrections to drawings and applications. Licensed architects can also self-certify residential permits for buildings with fewer than four units. This reduces the time and cost to obtain a permit. DOB also expedites permits for developments that are environmentally friendly and any combination of affordable, accessible, transit-oriented, and in underserved communities.

In 2012, the City’s Department of Water Management (DWM) piloted a program to evaluate the use of recycled plastic or alternative plastic pipe materials. Using alternative materials for storm water retention could save housing developers approximately 25-30% in material and installation costs. This pilot resulted in the revision of the City plumbing code allowing for usage of plastic pipe materials. DWM also funds, designs and builds CHA water and sewer improvements in the right-of-way. Through efficiencies the City has significantly reduced the time and cost associated with design, construction, and permitting of public housing developments.

3.) Enhance Affordability and Help Residents Stay in Their Homes

The City, in partnership with Neighborhood Housing Services of Chicago (NHS), funds a joint public/private home ownership initiative designed to stimulate a $100 million investment by approximately 20 local lending institutions. Through the Neighborhood Lending Program (NLP), DPD in 2013 provided nearly $2.4 million in public funding for interim financing, including about $2.2 million in CDBG funds, directly leveraging nearly $9 million in private loan dollars. Through NLP loans for home improvement, a total of 457 single-family units were purchased by individuals or preserved in 2013. In addition, 9,849 low- and moderate-income homeowners and prospective homeowners received pre-purchase counseling.

DPD's Housing Services Technical Assistance program funds CBOs to provide housing-related information, problem solving tools, community events, workshops and housing fairs to assist low- and moderate-income homeowners. These organizations provided counseling and technical assistance to 27,147 households in 2013.

4.) Pursue Policies and Funding to Support Affordable Housing

In 2013, DPD took positive steps in advancing long-range housing policy initiatives at the local, state, and federal levels. During the course of the year, the department, in cooperation with over 120 housing experts, activists, developers, and other stakeholders initiated the development of a new five-year housing plan for 2014 to 2018. In December, the City released a proposed new plan, Bouncing Back: Five-Year Housing Plan 2014-2018 for public comment and review.

Bouncing Back, the fifth five-year housing plan issued by the City since 1994, approaches local housing issues from a different perspective than previous plans, which were largely driven by expectations of a rising housing market across the city. Mindful of the decline in the housing market in recent years, the 2014-2018 Plan explicitly links Chicago's housing submarkets to economic development, jobs, neighborhood amenities, land use patterns, and other non-housing factors. Bouncing Back projects commitments of more than $1.3 billion from federal, state, city and private sources to create or preserve 41,000 housing units over the next five years. The plan sets out strategies to:

- Target resources geographically for maximum impact;
- Advance new land-use policies in neighborhoods with large vacant areas;
- Develop new financing programs for housing rehabilitation programs;
- Encourage innovative re-use options for vacant and abandoned buildings;
- Integrate housing into broader community-development plans; and
- Provide affordable housing to the city's most vulnerable residents, including senior citizens on fixed incomes, those at risk of homelessness and people with special needs.

Following a public comment period the new plan was submitted to the City Council and adopted in February 2014.

DPD more effectively focused federal housing dollars and increased leveraging of private investment through the Micro Market Recovery Program (MMRP), a new initiative that coordinates multiple public and private funding streams through targeting small neighborhood areas across the city. In 2013 the initiative included CDBG funding to provide home improvement grants to income-qualified (80% AMI or below), owner-occupant households in MMRP target areas. The goal of MMRP is to stabilize and improve both neighborhoods and local housing markets. The initiative assisted 15 households with $187,368 in CDBG-funded home-improvement forgivable loans.

5.) Addressing the Accessibility Needs of Persons with Disabilities

While MOPD does not directly provide housing or fund housing development, it promotes the development of and access to affordable and accessible housing for people with disabilities. MOPD also continues to make efforts to correct policies that impede people with disabilities from receiving affordable housing. This is a multi-faceted approach that includes providing direct services, education, and recommendations for systematic and policy changes. MOPD discourages the use of nursing homes and institutions as housing alternatives for people with disabilities and promotes integrated housing for people with disabilities. MOPD works with other City departments and agencies to implement policy and programmatic changes that will help ensure the availability of accessible and affordable housing for people with disabilities. For instance, MOPD has partnered with CHA in developing the Plan for Transformation.

C. Homelessness and Other Special Needs

The City has developed an integrated system to address the needs of special populations, including the homeless. With the goal of reducing and ending homelessness, DFSS, along with its delegate agencies, has developed a homeless service system that consists of prevention, outreach and engagement, emergency shelter and interim housing, permanent housing, and supportive services.

1.) Homeless Outreach and Engagement Program

The DFSS Homeless Outreach and Engagement Program is designed to work with the homeless who live on the streets and who reside in the shelter system. Since some individuals refuse to enter the system through regular channels, this program provides assistance and resources to those on the streets and creates an alternative entry point into the homeless system for those hard-to-reach clients.

The Outreach and Engagement Program provides street-based assistance and assessment to homeless persons, which include basic client assessment, crisis intervention, linkages to shelter and housing, and referrals to support services. The program targets hot spots where homeless persons are known to frequent, such as specific parks and street locations. Outreach and engagement is also conducted in conjunction with the Chicago Transit Authority (CTA) to target homeless persons on trains and platforms.

The Outreach and Engagement Program operates two mobile health units in collaboration with the Chicago Department of Public Health (DPH). Each mobile health unit provides outreach, intake, mental health screening, substance abuse screening, medical intake, physical examinations and screening, shelter placement, and health referrals to clients at emergency shelter response programs and targeted street sites where unsheltered homeless persons congregate. The mobile health units are staffed with skilled social workers and nurse practitioners. They are also equipped with private conference and examination space, X-ray equipment for tuberculosis and other screenings, on-board computers, and audio-visual capabilities for health education purposes.

DFSS also utilizes CDBG funding to support a number of outreach programs operated by community-based agencies that engage homeless persons on the street, as well as daytime drop-in centers that engage homeless persons who may not have yet entered the shelter system.

2.) Emergency Shelter and Interim Housing

For those who find themselves homeless, DFSS funds a shelter system that consists of emergency Overnight Shelter programs and Transitional Housing (Interim Housing programs).

Overnight Shelter programs provide shelter to single males and females age 18 and over on a nightly basis for up to 12 consecutive hours. These shelters may be seasonal or year round. These programs serve the homeless on a daily, first-come, first-serve basis. Overnight Shelter programs are required to establish formal written agreements with support service providers that provide access to case management and referrals to services such as job training, mental health services, and substance abuse treatment.

Interim Housing is defined as the living space and services offered to single individuals and families with children as they move from homelessness to permanent housing, delivered within a client-centered, individualized, and community-based approach. The goal of Interim Housing is to re-house those who are homeless for a 120-180 day period. This is accomplished by focusing on appropriate permanent housing placements, client stabilization, assessment, and referrals to community resources. DFSS supports housing programs that provide interim housing for youth (18-24 years old), survivors of domestic violence, families, and individuals.

In 2013, the Interim Housing Programs funded by DFSS served 12,809 persons and 6,957 households. Of the households served, 2,049 (34%) exited interim housing and went on to reside in more stable housing placements (either permanent housing or placement with family or friends). This is a 20% decrease from 2012 (43%).

3.) Permanent Housing

DFSS funds a number of permanent supportive housing programs for formerly homeless persons, including Shelter Plus Care, Safe Havens, Age Appropriate Housing for Unaccompanied Youth, Permanent Housing with Short Term Supports, and the Street to Home program.

Shelter Plus Care provides permanent supportive housing for homeless households where one adult member is disabled. The program provides a rental subsidy in conjunction with supportive services to support housing stability. In 2013, a total of 1,431 units were available and 2,468 clients were served. As part of the HUD's 2012 Notice of Funding Availability (NOFA) competition, DFSS was awarded $13,639,332 in renewals and applied for one new Shelter Plus Care project. The renewal funding along with previously awarded projects will sustain the units in the program that currently house disabled homeless households.

Safe Haven is an open-stay, no-demand, and service-enriched housing program for persons with mental illness or dual disorders (Mental Illness/Substance Use Disorder) who are hard to engage in services. Safe Havens are safe and non-intrusive living environments in which skilled staff members work to engage persons in housing and needed services. The case management ratio must not exceed 15 residents per case manager. In 2013, a total of 25 beds were available and 34 clients served.

The Age Appropriate Stable Housing for Unaccompanied Youth program serves unaccompanied youth, ages 18 through 25, who are homeless. Services may be delivered in a shared living arrangement or in clustered apartments with on-site supportive services and community-based linkages. Youth who are wards of the State are ineligible for this program. The case management ratio must not exceed 25 clients per case manager. In 2013, 127 beds were available and 260 clients served.

The Permanent Housing with Short-Term Support program targets people who need short-term assistance with housing and supportive services. Homeless individuals and families are housed in permanent housing and given the rental assistance and supportive services that they need to assume the lease by the time of program completion. The goal of the Permanent Housing with Short-Term Support program is to assist the household to become self-sufficient by gradually phasing out the supports. This phase out occurs within a two year period so that the household is eventually able to maintain their unit independently. The case management ratio must not exceed 30 households per case manager. In 2013, 130 beds were available and 200 clients served.

The Street to Home program provides support services and subsidized rents through the Chicago Low Income Housing Trust Fund. The focus of services is housing retention, and services include connecting participants with a source of income, as well as engagement in substance abuse treatment, mental health services, employment and educational services, and other life skills trainings, as needed. In 2013, a total of 107 units were available and 120 clients served.

4.) Supportive Services for the Homeless

To supplement the residential services provided at various homeless shelters, DFSS funds community-based case management and specialized services programs for the homeless. Case management services include psycho-social assessment, crisis intervention services, and linkages to other needed community-based services. Services may include employment training and job services, mental health services, substance abuse treatment, and other services that help clients secure or increase household income. Providers are expected to follow-up with clients after permanent housing placement to ensure that the household remains housed.

5.) The Plan to End Homelessness

The City and its partners, through the Chicago Planning Council to End Homelessness, have made significant progress in implementing Chicago's original 2003 Plan to End Homelessness (the Plan). The core tenets of the Plan were to: 1) prevent homelessness whenever possible; 2) rapidly re-house people when homelessness cannot be prevented; and 3) provide wraparound services that promote housing stability and self-sufficiency.

The Plan called for a transition of the homeless services system from a shelter-based system focused on temporary fixes to a housing-based system emphasizing long-term living solutions for the homeless on the street and in overnight shelters. To that end, Chicago significantly increased interim, transitional, and permanent housing resources and reduced the number of temporary shelter beds.

In 2012, stakeholders in Chicago’s Continuum of Care developed an updated set of strategies to prevent and end homelessness. Chicago’s Plan 2.0 is a broad-ranging, seven-year action plan (2013-2019) that reaffirms and builds on the core strategies outlined in the first plan – prevention, housing first, and wraparound services – and identifies seven new strategies for improving and coordinating access to housing and services:

- The Crisis Response System: Create an effective crisis response system that prevents homelessness whenever possible and rapidly returns people who experience homelessness to stable housing.
- Access to Stable and Affordable Housing: Create and maintain stable and affordable housing for households who are experiencing or at risk of homelessness.
- Youth Homelessness: Create a comprehensive, developmentally appropriate menu of services for youth who experience homelessness in order to prevent homeless youth from becoming the next generation of homeless adults.
- Employment: Increase meaningful and sustainable employment opportunities for people experiencing or most at risk of homelessness.
- Advocacy and Civic Engagement: Engage all of Chicago in a robust plan that creates a path to securing a home for everyone in our community.
- Cross-Systems Integration: Work across public and private systems of care to ensure ending homelessness is a shared priority.
- Capacity Building: Ensure a strong homeless assistance system capable of implementing Plan 2.0 goals and HEARTH Act performance standards.

6.) Specific Homeless Prevention Elements

As part of its primary mission, DFSS delivers services to low-income individuals and families, many of whom are homeless or at-risk of becoming homeless. DFSS carries out several activities to prevent homelessness. DFSS provides rental assistance to those at risk of becoming homeless. DFSS also funds a number of delegate agencies to provide services to prevent homelessness or its re-occurrence. The Homelessness Prevention Call Center (HPCC) was established in 2007 to improve access to the types of emergency resources necessary to prevent households from becoming homeless. Chicagoans in need of short-term financial assistance to avoid eviction or utility shut-off who call 311 City Services are transferred to the HPCC. The HPCC, which operates under the auspices of Catholic Charities, provides central access to the range of prevention funding and services available. HPCC staff screen callers to determine eligibility for assistance programs and connect them with appropriate resources to address their situations. The HPCC is the result of collaboration among various City departments and the not-for-profit community.

D. Other Actions in Strategic Plan or Action Plan

1.) Addressing Obstacles to Meeting Underserved Needs

The City has established a number of policy objectives and strategic goals in order to address obstacles in meeting underserved housing needs:

- Reducing foreclosures and stabilizing property values in key neighborhoods throughout the city through the Micro Market Recovery Program. The City fosters the reoccupation of foreclosed or vacant properties by coordinating multiple incentive programs, not-for-profit intermediaries, for-profit capital sources, and by providing financing to approved developers and end-users.
- Supporting Single Room Occupancy (SRO) and family housing in Chicago by developing, rehabilitating, or arranging special financing for properties in target areas where successful shelter programs that also offer support services and job creation opportunities can be closely linked.
- Developing partnership programs that increase subsidy assistance for individuals that progress through the continuum of care, which promises transition to permanent affordable housing in a reasonable period of time.
- Focusing resources to support housing for households under 30 percent of AMI.
- Supporting the not-for-profit community, notably with the help of Supportive Housing Program (SHP) funding, in the provision of supportive services that aid in and help overcome obstacles to moving from homelessness or near homelessness to self-sufficiency.

DPD's Housing Bureau continually reassesses its policies and makes adjustments in response to changing market conditions and service needs. Recently, because of the current state of the national economy and regional housing markets, the Department has experienced lower than historic levels of participation in programs which leverage private loans for home repairs. Additionally, the Purchase Price Assistance Program, which offers down payment assistance to homebuyers, has underperformed due to the nationwide slowdown in home lending. The allocation of federal dollars is influenced by the availability of leveraged resources. As a result of these conditions, the City has shifted greater resources towards programs that assist the existing housing stock, with particular attention to those programs serving homes falling into disrepair or presenting eminent hazards to residents.

2.) Domestic Violence Intervention and Prevention

In addition to CDBG, DFSS administers other funding sources to implement domestic violence intervention and prevention initiatives, including the Services to Homeless Victims of Domestic Violence Project and Safe Haven: Supervised Visitation and Safe Exchange Grant Program (Supervised Visitation Program).

The Services to Homeless Victims of Domestic Violence Project, funded through the federal Victims of Crime Act, is designed to reach the homeless or those at risk of becoming homeless due to a history of domestic violence. These services are comprehensive and include safety planning assistance, case management, and advocacy. A screening tool is used at the six DFSS Community Service Centers for all walk-in clients, and specialized domestic violence advocates serve domestic violence victims at five of the Centers. Those advocates also provide domestic violence education and awareness groups at DFSS-funded emergency or overnight shelters and interim housing programs to identify and serve domestic violence victims at those facilities.

Through the U.S. Department of Justice-funded Supervised Visitation Program, DFSS collaborates with the Cook County court system and three delegate agencies to provide a safe location for victims to fulfill court ordered visits or exchanges between children and non-custodial parents. All services are structured to prevent victims and children from further witnessing or experiencing violence, sexual abuse, and harassment during visits or exchanges. Approximately 100 families per year are served by this program. The City was awarded a $650,000 extension of this grant through the end of June 2016.

The City began funding a new service, Resource and Information Advocates (RIAs), at Chicago's centralized domestic violence court house at 555 W. Harrison on July 1, 2013. RIAs are trained in providing counseling for victims of domestic violence, sexual assault, stalking, and elder abuse. They focus on providing services to clients, including:

- A brief overview of available options to victims at Domestic Violence (DV) Court including orders of protection, civil no contact orders, and stalking no contact orders;
- Assessment of which option is best for each victim;
- Referrals to additional resources inside and outside the court house; and
- Explanation of next steps after court proceedings.

This new service began as a pilot project. DFSS funded four of its current legal advocacy delegate agencies to hire one new RIA each for the year. The model is based on a revision to the current role of court advocates and is designed to increase information to more victims about the options available at the centralized court. The pilot proved to be a success, with the four advocates providing services to 2,714 clients during the first six months, achieving 181% of their goal. Each pilot agency has been funded in 2014 to support a full time RIA.

3.) Accessibility for People with Disabilities

MOPD's HomeMod program allows people with disabilities who are of low- to moderate-income to receive home modifications that make their living environment more accessible. Home modifications are limited to a maximum of $10,000 per household for eligible individuals who are 59 years of age or younger. This program helps to increase the accessible housing stock in Chicago and provide more housing options for people with disabilities. An accessible living environment provides people with disabilities a greater opportunity to achieve their maximum level of independence, navigate throughout their community, and fully participate in all aspects of life, such as employment, recreation and education. In 2013, the HomeMod program helped increase the accessible housing stock in Chicago by completing 31 home modifications.

HomeMod program monitoring begins when an applicant completes a program application. This is the first opportunity for prospective clients to detail their income level, disability, and other eligibility criteria. Once a modification has begun there is continuous project tracking and reporting, on-site visits, in-home client visits, review of expenditures, and a final comprehensive review and inspection of the completed modification. Internally, program and finance staff meets monthly to review the progress of the program. During the formal finance monitoring visit, the HomeMod delegate agency files are reviewed and specific criteria are rated. A standardized evaluation tool is used to capture information about the HomeMod delegate agency's progress.

The HomeMod program continues to leverage other resources for funding through development and mailing of marketing materials, applying for various grants, and petitioning not-for-profit organizations committed to the issues of people with disabilities. Through these efforts, in 2013, the HomeMod program was successful in securing $458,930 from other resources and will continue to pursue additional sources of funding. In addition, MOPD has partnered with DPH for unlimited use of their laboratories for all lead testing needs at no cost to the HomeMod program. All supplies for testing and monitoring are provided to HomeMod.

4.) Improve Public Housing and Resident Initiatives

In 2013, CHA delivered an additional 298 housing units toward the 25,000 unit delivery goal in the Consolidated Plan. The breakdown of these units is detailed below.

- 88 public housing units through mixed-income redevelopment
 - 47 units at Lakefront Phase II
 - 19 units at Oakwood Shores Phase 2C
 - 22 units at Oakwood Shores Phase 2D
- 7 public housing units through the former Property Investment Initiative (PII) Program
- 203 new project-based voucher units in Chicago through the Property Rental Assistance (PRA) Program

As of the end of 2013, CHA has completed 21,649 units or 87% of the 25,000 unit goal.

Through the end of 2013, CHA served approximately 55,000 households through public housing and Housing Choice Voucher (HCV) programs, 17,942 public housing households and 36,959 HCV households.

Through the end of 2013, CHA's wait lists have a total of 40,688 applicants:

- Public Housing Family Housing (Community-Wide): 11,313
- Scattered Site (Community Area): 7,263
- HCV/PRA: 15,230
- Senior Site-Based Wait Lists: 6,882

In 2013, CHA prioritized services to residents with positive results in the following areas:

- Increasing Economic Independence
 - Helped residents build assets, with 112 residents graduating from the Family Self-Sufficiency program with a combined total of more than $885,000 in escrow and 36 families purchasing homes through the Choose to Own Program.
- Increasing Earning Power
 - Assisted 2,223 residents obtain employment.
 - Engaged more than 2,321 youth in paid summer work experiences.
 - Launched a Business Development program with the Chicago Urban League for CHA residents seeking to establish their own business in which 60 residents participated in 2013.
- Developing Academic Achievement
 - Helped 559 residents attend the City Colleges of Chicago through CHA's intergovernmental agreement;
 - Awarded 105 youth a scholarship through CHA's college scholarship program; and

- Increased enrollment in Head Start programming by more than 200% with 2,170 children enrolled.
- Increasing Stability
 - Engaged more than 7,000 youth in out-of-school-time programs. A financial literacy program was integrated into these opportunities, and 79% completed the program and received a financial literacy certification
 - Supported the social life of more than 3,000 seniors through CHA's summer music festivals, Mayor Emanuel's Senior Summer Fest, and CHA's Senior Holiday Luncheon.
 - Continued to offer health and wellness programming, such as Heart 360, a blood pressure screening program in partnership with Walgreens and the American Heart Association that engaged 80 seniors in four buildings, and an asthma program in partnership with Sinai Urban Health Institute that resulted in reduced symptoms and fewer ER visits for the 158 participants.

IV. INSTITUTIONAL STRUCTURE AND ENHANCED COORDINATION

A. Lead Abatement

DPH's Lead Poisoning Prevention Program (Lead Prevention Program) works to prevent lead poisoning by maximizing the availability of affordable lead safe housing in the city. In 2013, the Lead Prevention Program conducted 28 lead-safe work practices training sessions, 14 in Spanish, attended by 431 participants. These trainings provide property owners with the knowledge and skills to remediate lead hazards in their properties in a safe and effective manner. The Lead Prevention Program also provided education and training to community agencies and to the general public at community-based events. The program's success is due in large part to the partnerships with community and faith-based organizations that ensure that the public receives information on lead poisoning prevention and grant programs available to low-income homeowners for lead abatement.

The Lead Prevention Program has a long history of securing grant funding for low-income property owners for lead abatement. In 2011, the program received a $3,000,000 grant from HUD which runs until the fall of 2014. With these funds, the program has conducted lead abatement work on 59 housing units. An additional 31 units have been abated with funding from the Cook County Department of Public Health.

On January 10, 2002, HUD began implementation of HUD Rule 24 CFR, Part 35, which requires all developers and contractors working on federally assisted rehabilitation projects with the City to be trained in Lead-Safe work practices or be an Illinois Licensed Lead Abatement Contractor and achieve lead-dust clearance. This regulation affects all City departments that receiving federal funding for housing (i.e., DFSS, DPD, DPH, and MOPD). The majority of affected housing units are funded through DPD. DPD programs affected include SARFS, Emergency Housing Assistance Program, Neighborhood Housing Services Loan Programs, Low-Income Housing Trust Fund, and the Multi-Family Rehab Program. MOPD's HomeMod program is also affected. The City is strongly committed to the goals of these regulations and has dedicated all available resources to training, outreach, and management initiatives that will enable full compliance with the standards.

During lead inspections, if DPH inspectors identify other hazards in the home, they refer the issue to DOB, DFSS, the Department of Streets and Sanitation (DSS), or the Chicago Fire Department (CFD) as required. The Law Department assists DPH in enforcing Chicago Municipal Code 7-4 regarding lead-bearing substances.

B. One Summer Chicago

One Summer Chicago (OSC) is a City-County initiative to provide children and youth between the ages of 6 and 24 with meaningful summer engagement opportunities, including summer employment for youth ages 14-24 and educational and recreational opportunities (e.g. day camps, arts programs, and sports programs) for youth of all ages. OSC seeks to maximize the availability of and access to summer programs for Chicago's young people to keep them learning and surrounded by positive experiences throughout the summer. To achieve this goal, public agency partners leverage their resources to provide the maximum number of high quality opportunities for children and youth. The following City and County departments and sister agencies partnered to deliver summer employment and internships for youth through OSC 2013:

- DFSS (Coordinator)
- After School Matters
- CHA
- Chicago Park District
- Chicago Public Libraries
- Chicago Public Schools (CPS)
- City Colleges of Chicago
- Chicago Cook Workforce Partnership
- Cook County Forest Preserve

Now in its third year, OSC's youth employment program continued to improve registration processes, inter-agency coordination, and data collection. OSC expanded private partnerships, leveraged greater resources, increased program offerings, and launched new evidence-based violence prevention programs through an unprecedented collaboration with five County and State criminal justice agencies. The accomplishments for the 2013 summer program include:

- 21,744 youth were hired to work in paid and volunteer positions through OSC and nearly 20,000 completed their summer work experience, a retention rate of 91 percent.
- 280 youth were offered ongoing employment.
- Youth worked at over 1,800 worksites, including 260 private sector worksites.
- Employers reported significant satisfaction with their OSC employees: 81 percent of employers enjoyed supervising their OSC employee; 71 percent said their OSC employee met or exceeded expectations; and nearly 60 percent said their OSC employees outperformed other employees in comparable positions

The following are significant accomplishments of OSC's 2013 initiatives:

- New Online Application. OSC and Workforce.io partnered to provide a web-based platform for Chicago youth that allows them to develop a resume, create a video profile, and communicate directly with local businesses. Each participant create a personal profile and can continue to update and revise their profile, including adding their earned badges (see below), recommendations, and commendations, and updating their video resumes. The website may be viewed at www.onesummerchicago.org. Nearly 8,100 youth have completed their profiles.

- Teaching Financial Literacy. EverFi, with support from JP Morgan Chase Bank, offered an online financial curriculum for all youth employed through OSC. The curriculum complements the City's Bank On initiative and existing City financial literacy resources. This summer 2,826 youth completed the EverFi curriculum.
- Earned Badges. Youth earned electronic badges for completing the EverFi finance literacy program and their OSC job.
- Standardized Mentor Training. Urban Alliance provided high quality training for OSC's employment program mentors and employees.
- More Private Sector Worksites. Private sector business partners throughout the City agreed to serve as worksites for Chicago's youth, resulting in 260 private sector worksites. The Rotary Club expanded its partnership with CPS, placing 25 youth in private sectors jobs such as law firms, retail stores, and fast food establishments.
- Engaging Volunteers. Through its volunteer network, Chicago Cares provided intensive service learning projects to 250 summer job participants. They created meaningful opportunities for youth to make a difference in their communities while learning skills that will help them succeed in school, work, and life.
- New De-Escalation Teams. Eight de-escalation teams were created in partnership with DFSS and CPS. These teams were tasked with responding to conflicts at DFSS-funded summer employment programs. The team would assess the situation and make determinations about the appropriate next steps to ensure the safety of all youth.
- Innovative Programming. In partnership with the Chicago Department of Transportation's Greencorps Youth program, DFSS introduced modular job and learning experiences and will turn summer opportunities into year-round opportunities for over 120 Greencorps Youth and 700 successful participants in OSC PLUS. DFSS also launched digital media programs with Smart Chicago that could lead to high-tech internships for youth in the future.
- Partnership with County and State Agencies. This year DFSS teamed up with the Illinois Department of Juvenile Justice, Cook County Juvenile Temporary Detention Center, Cook County Sheriff's Office, Cook County Adult Probation, and Cook County Office of Juvenile Probation to identify youth ages 16-22 to participate in the OSC Plus program. This required collaborating with hundreds of probation, parole, and detention center staff to promote the program and assist youth with the application and consent process.
- Leveraged Resources. DFSS raised $1.5 million in corporate and foundation donations to match the mayor's $1.5 million contribution to the OSC PLUS program. In addition, DFSS attracted, managed, and leveraged over $1 million in additional cash contributions and pro bono services from groups like the Civic Consulting Alliance, Civic Leadership Foundation, Urban Alliance, EverFi, Saris Foundation, University of Chicago Crime Lab, Chicago Cares, Accenture, and many more.

- New Recognition Event and Award. With the support of the Chicago Community Trust, DFSS and the Mayor’s Office hosted a recognition breakfast on September 19, 2013, to celebrate the accomplishments of OSC 2013 and acknowledge the donors and contributors who provided their support. The breakfast drew 220 guests and featured special acknowledgements by Mayor Emanuel and Cook County President Toni Preckwinkle. This year the annual “Game Change Award” debuted. This award will be given to an OSC participant who uses his or her summer job opportunity to create unexpected, positive outcomes in his or her life. This year’s award was given to Deshawn Shepherd, a 19 year old OSC PLUS participant from the Roseland community who was served by Phalanx Family Service.

V. LEVERAGING RESOURCES

In the 2013 Action Plan, the City anticipated leveraging approximately $419 million in additional resources to administer its community and planning development programs. These included other federal, state, local, and private sources that helped to address the needs of Chicago’s low- and moderate-income communities. The City has verified that a total of approximately $384 million was leveraged by the end of fiscal year 2013, which covers the period of January 1st – December, 31st.

VI. CITIZEN COMMENTS

To ensure that citizen’s priorities and needs are addressed in the Action Plan, the City holds two public hearings each year. The public hearings provide an opportunity for community groups, non-profit organizations, and citizens to explore entitlement grant programming ideas and to communicate their views and comments to the City.

In 2013, the first public hearing was held at 5:30 p.m. on March 5th at the Chicago Cultural Center, 78 E. Washington Street, to solicit comments on the City’s 2012 Draft CAPER and the 2014 Action Plan planning process. A public notice was published on February 25th in three local newspapers, the Chicago Sun-Times, the Chicago Defender, and Hoy, to announce the hearing and to solicit comments for the 2012 Draft CAPER and the 2014 Action Plan. The Draft 2012 CAPER was posted on the City’s web site from March 8th through March 29th and written comments were accepted through April 4th.

A second public hearing was held on November 4th at the Chicago Cultural Center. This hearing coincided with the draft release of the City’s annual budget appropriation and was specifically held to solicit citizens’ comments on the draft 2014 Action Plan. Public notices were published in three local newspapers listed above.

The City has designated the Community Development Advisory Committee (CDAC) to help promote neighborhood participation by identifying needs and priorities for funding and advise the City on the citizen participation process. CDAC members are chosen from among Chicago residents that are nominated by various communities and citywide organizations. CDAC members act as representatives of the entire city and provide decision-makers with the advantage of their first-hand knowledge of community and program facts, experiences, perceptions, and opinions.

VII. MONITORING

As outlined in the 2013 Action Plan, the City has established standards and procedures to monitor the use of federal grant funds. Overall resource management for the City is the responsibility of the Office of Budget and Management (OBM). OBM oversees the administration of all grant funds received by the City. Annually, the Mayor presents to the City Council for approval, the allocation of grant resources to individual City departments. Once resources are allocated for specific purposes, the designated department is responsible for approving the disbursement of funds and for project monitoring.

Each department allocates grant resources received in accordance with preapproved uses of the funds. Contracts, agreements, and loan documents with program participants incorporate the services and activities to be completed, the compliance requirements, and the specific conditions under which funds may be released.

A. Audits

The City's Department of Finance, Grants and Projects Accounting Division (GPAD) is responsible for ensuring timely grants disbursements and monitoring actual expenditures. In addition, the City's Internal Audit Division (Internal Audit) has developed and implemented independent audit processes and controls for A-133 Single Audit Report Reviews, A-122 Voucher Documentation Audits, and Agreed-Upon Monitoring Procedures.

- A-133 Single Audit Report Reviews: In accordance with OMB Circular A-133, Internal Audit assesses the annual Single Audit Reports of approximately 500 of the City's delegate agencies that spend $500,000 or greater in Federal funds annually, including review of their financial statements, reported internal controls, major programs. Internal Audit will communicate deficiencies and findings to delegate agencies and follow-up with these agencies or finance departments as necessary.
- A-122 Voucher Documentation Audits: In accordance with OMB Circular A-122, Internal Audit performs independent annual onsite audits of reimbursement vouchers and supporting documentation for approximately 500 of the City's delegate agencies. Vouchers and invoices are reviewed for compliance with the delegate agency contract budget and with Federal cost regulations. Internal Audit will communicate deficiencies and findings to delegate agencies and follow-up with these agencies or finance departments as necessary. In 2013, these audits covered over 73% of the City's delegate agencies.
- Agreed-Upon Audit Procedures (AUPs): Internal Audit may perform additional AUPs on select agencies, based upon recent financial or operational deficiencies or instances of non-compliance, to assess an agency's internal controls and fiscal operations. AUPs can also be performed on agencies that expend less than $500,000 in Federal funds.

Within each department, designated staff are responsible for monitoring compliance with applicable federal, state, and city regulations for programs directly administered by City staff and for those delivered by third-parties, such as delegate agencies. Each department conducts monitoring activities regularly or as required by HUD regulations to ensure compliance. Some examples of monitoring activities for funded programs include:

- Unscheduled program site visits to evaluate program compliance and client participation
- Standard evaluation of programs to determine scope of work compliance, verify participant eligibility, and confirm deliverables reported
- Regular review of participant level data via the City's web-based tracking system
- Fiscal and programmatic audits of delegate agencies to determine compliance with regulations
- Review of program deliverable reports submitted monthly and quarterly; performance-based contracts must be supported with appropriate documentation.
- Internal monitoring to ensure standards of care and documentation requirements are met according to Illinois Department of Human Services' Division of Mental Health Admin Rule 132
- Annual survey by the Illinois Department of Human Services Bureau of Accreditation, Licensure, and Certification
- Survey every three years by the Commission on Accreditation of Rehabilitation Facilities
- On-site construction inspections
- Loan underwriting to determine eligible and reasonable costs
- Verification and certification of initial occupancy (income, assets, rent levels)
- Environmental reviews
- Review of Davis Bacon wage requirements compliance
- Review of owner's certifications (general compliance requirements for affordable housing) as required under certain programs

B. Minority Business Enterprise and Women Business Enterprise Compliance

The City of Chicago assures compliance through the inclusion and enforcement of Section 2-92-420 through 2-92-570 of the Municipal Code, which authorizes a minority-owned procurement program. Quarterly, the City publishes a directory of certified contractors or vendors that have applied for and been determined to be legitimate Minority Business Enterprises (MBE) or Women Business Enterprises (WBE).

The application process is very thorough, including a review of operations, financial documentation, and work references. Certification is for one year and must be renewed annually through a re-certification application. MBE/WBE participation is sought, as well as encouraged, on all projects financed with City and federal funds. Each project is measured for the percentages of MBE/WBE participation with each phase being accountable - reconstruction activities, construction, and post construction activities.

Based on past experiences, the largest percentage of MBE/WBE participation occurs during construction, as this phase generates a greater dollar value and a greater number of skilled jobs. The certified directory enables prospective grantees to contact, request bids, and contract with certified MBEs and WBEs. Construction monitoring meetings are held with all developers and general contractors. City staff discuss all compliance requirements during these meetings, including the requirement of participation by certified MBE and certified WBE firms.

The City with the Department of Procurement Services, as lead agency, regularly reviews the MBE/WBE certification processes and the impact of this program. City staff uses the directory of certified contractors or vendors to determine the MBE/WBE project participation percentages.

Additionally, the City monitors participation of minority and women contractors and submits this information to HUD via a semi-annual report.

C. Section 3 Compliance

Section 3 of the Housing and Urban Development Act of 1968 requires that employment, training, and contracting opportunities generated by financial assistance from HUD shall, to the greatest extent feasible, be given to low- and very low-income persons and businesses that provide economic opportunity for these individuals. There are both hiring and contracting goals for recipients, contractors, and subcontractors that when met, satisfactorily demonstrate efforts to comply with Section 3.

The City requires that each affected department submit an annual Section 3 Compliance Plan that includes the identification of departmental Section 3 covered programs and departmental monitoring and compliance strategies. The City encourages all recipients of City funds, their contractors and subcontractors, to surpass the minimum requirements described above, and to undertake additional efforts to provide low- and very low-income persons with economic opportunities. The City also facilitates the referral process for Section 3 to assist both the entities that do business with the City in their compliance and the individuals and businesses that Section 3 seeks to benefit.

The City distributes the Section 3 Compliance Plan Booklet to developers and contractors at applicable preconstruction and monitoring meetings. The Booklet explains the intent of Section 3 and provides forms on which the developers and contractors can document their efforts. These forms are then used by the City to maintain its records and provide reports as necessary.

D. HOME Long Term Compliance and Affirmative Marketing

DPD has developed several tools to effectively monitor HOME Projects for long term compliance. All completed rental projects are required to submit an Annual Owner's Certification regarding the compliance of the development (either on April 1st or, if the project includes tax credit funding, on October 1st). These certifications and audited financial statements are reviewed for completeness and adherence to all requisite regulations. The audited financial statements are utilized to determine the financial health of the project.

Annual on-site monitoring visits are regularly scheduled and conducted for long term HOME projects. There are two phases of the on-site monitoring visits: records inspection and physical inspection. DPD compliance staff conducts records inspections. The staff reviews the project files (i.e., all documentation regarding affirmative marketing, legal issues, building inspections, fair housing issues) and the individual tenant files (e.g., income certification, income and asset verifications, tenant profile data, etc.). DPD rehabilitation construction staff conducts the physical inspections of the development. The inspections determine compliance with Housing Quality Standards (HQS) by inspecting the building and a sample of the individual units. The inspectors forward their results to compliance staff to compile the information from the records and physical inspections and notify the owners in writing of the results.

Additionally, in compliance with the affirmative marketing requirements in 24 CFR 92.51, DPD has developed an assessment tool that is incorporated into all project applications for HOME funds. The objectives of the affirmative marketing efforts are to ensure that individuals not likely to apply, whether minority or non-minority, know about the vacancies, feel welcome to apply. and have the opportunity to rent.

Developers or borrowers must comply with the affirmative marketing requirements established by DPD, which include a written affirmative marketing plan that identifies client-addressed contacts with community groups and churches, media outreach and other outward efforts; maintaining on-site records indicating steps or procedures undertaken to fill vacant units; and maintaining documentation as to program eligibility for all tenants and prospective tenants.

On-site monitoring visits were made to 154 HOME-funded rental projects in 2013. During each monitoring visit the affirmative marketing plan was reviewed and on-site records were inspected for compliance with the plan. Advertisements were reviewed for adherence with all regulations. Tenant files were examined to determine eligibility and waiting lists reviewed to assess fairness in placement. DPD is currently reviewing site visit reports to determine compliance status of the rental projects and will have a final report completed by May 2014.

DPD compliance staff continues to review and reevaluate the standard operating procedures and processes in order to enhance and update assessment tools. Copies of the Annual Owner's Certification, Tenant File Review, and Physical Inspection forms are kept on file at DPD.

E. Minimize Displacement

The City's policy is to minimize the amount of displacement resulting from CDBG based activities whenever possible. To accomplish these goals, the City:

- Assesses the City's real estate inventory to determine whether the City could use any property it currently owns for the proposed development to avoid resident displacement.
- Seeks opportunities to move tenants within the building for the period of construction or renovation, specifically, an on-site vacant unit may serve as a temporary apartment in order to avoid displacing the resident. Depending upon the time required to complete the work, the designated unit(s) may accommodate both daytime and extended use.
- Gives higher priority to vacant properties where relocation is not required, sites where on-site temporary relocation is available, or locations where a minimum number of residents will be subject to off-site relocation when selecting properties eligible for CDBG assistance.
- Performs rehabilitation in stages to avoid the need for relocation or to minimize the number of tenants who will require relocation at one time.
- Maintains close contact with tenants to avoid confusion and ensure tenants do not voluntarily leave the property due to misinformation.

Steps to identify households, businesses, or not-for-profit organizations who occupied properties subject to the Uniform Relocation Act or Section 104(d) of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974, as amended, and to determine whether they were displaced and the nature of their needs and preferences include: conducting an on-site visit to determine all occupants that may require relocation; reviewing rent rolls; and performing one-on-one interviews with each tenant, assessing income and special needs for relocation eligibility.

Steps taken to ensure the timely issuance of information notices to displaced households, businesses, or not-for-profits include:

- General information notice not displaced letters and HUD-1042-CPD pamphlets are hand delivered or mailed after the developers' application for funds.
- Move-In notices are delivered to the developers for distribution.
- Letters of non-displacement are hand delivered after one-on-one interviews.
- Letters of temporary relocation are hand delivered to the tenants who are required to move out temporarily from the development.
- 30 Day vacate notices are hand delivered to each tenant whose unit is scheduled for rehabilitation.
- 30 Day move back notices are hand delivered to tenants whose units are rehabilitated.

In 2013, eight households were temporarily displaced, at a total cost of $21,803, as a result of HOME-funded rehabilitation projects.

VIII. HOME INVESTMENT PARTNERSHIP PROGRAM (HOME)

In 2013, the City's HOME award was reduced by approximately 7%, or $1.6 million, compared to the 2012 award. As a result, the City reduced the projected number of housing units developed or rehabilitated from 975 to 658. Each of the activities performed under the City of Chicago's HOME program meets one or more of the needs identified by the City in its Consolidated Plan. Many programs are interrelated and are designed to address multiple needs. Accomplishments under each of these activities are highlighted below. Please note, all unit counts cited in this section are based on funding commitments made during 2013 and may differ from totals currently recorded under IDIS.

A. Multi-Family Housing

In 2013, DPD made a commitment to fund 894 low- to moderate-income multi-family units and successfully delivered on 576 units. Households with incomes below 30% of median income benefited from 83 units; households at 31-50% median income benefited from 34 units; and households at 51-60% benefited from 459 units. These results affirm the City's commitment to target resources to a wide range of low-income households.

B. HOME Match

One of the City's housing priorities is leveraging public resources to maximize private investments. For most projects that receive HOME dollars, significant portions of the development costs are funded by private mortgages from financial institutions, equity investments from owners, and tax credit syndications and participation from other government funding sources.

In most multi-family development projects, 30 to 60% of the development costs are covered through private debt equity. Greater public investment is generally needed when the rent levels in a development are targeted to serve a very low-income population. Higher per-unit HOME investment levels are also related to heightened demand for Low-Income Housing Tax Credits.

Fewer tax credits available to each project decrease the amount of private equity that can be raised to fund the development, thus increasing the level of HOME subsidy required. In 2013, leveraged public and private investments for HOME-funded projects totaled $11,452,437.

C. Community Housing Development Organizations

One-third of DPD's housing development is created by not-for-profit developers. The requirement for a 15% set-aside for Community Housing Development Organizations (CHDOs) is only a starting point for development activity. Unlike some other cities, Chicago has built viable relationships with many organizations that are proven developers with a community-based, low-income focus. Outreach to community groups has expanded upon the extensive public participation process designed for the Consolidated Plan. DPD has been in regular contact with groups regarding HOME training, Consolidated Plan certifications, and grant support letters. The City continues to work closely with the Chicago Rehab Network, a housing development coordinating group, to encourage existing CHDOs to submit project proposals and new organizations to become qualified CHDOs.

Using HOME funds, DPD has established a CHDO Operating Assistance Program. Qualifying CHDOs can receive grants of up to $50,000 annually for operating expenses. Seven organizations received CHDO operating assistance funds in 2013. Development efforts funded under HOME have significantly improved the neighborhoods in which projects are located. HOME-funded projects have preserved housing units, provided an infusion of capital, and sparked development activity in heretofore neglected neighborhoods of the city. They have spurred private development in nearby areas and created economic opportunities for local residents through the participation of community-based not-for-profit development corporations and local contractor hiring.

D. Minority Business Enterprise and Women Business Enterprise

The City of Chicago assures compliance through the inclusion and enforcement of Section 2-92-420 through 2-92-570 of the Municipal Code, which authorizes a minority-owned procurement program. For a description of how the City enforces the Ordinance see Section VII. Monitoring - Minority Business Enterprise and Women Business Enterprise. During 2013, a total of $103,823,665 in contracts for HOME funded projects were completed. There were a total of 478 sub-contracts, of which 88 were MBE certified. This represents 18% of all contracts. Of the HOME total, $31,643,570 was awarded to certified firms comprising 30.5% of the total spent. An additional $8,431,278 was awarded to certified WBE firms representing 8.1% of contract dollars. Forty-nine WBE contracts were awarded comprising 10.3% of all contracts.

IX. EMERGENCY SOLUTIONS GRANT (ESG)

The Homeless Emergency Assistance and Rapid Transition to Housing Act of 2009 (HEARTH Act) amended the McKinney-Vento Homeless Assistance Act and included major revisions to the Emergency Shelter Grants program, now the Emergency Solutions Grants (ESG) program. The program is designed to identify sheltered and unsheltered homeless persons, as well as those at risk of homelessness, and provide the services necessary to help those persons quickly regain stability in permanent housing after experiencing a housing crisis and/or homelessness.

The City's 2013 ESG award was reduced due to federal sequestration. The City was awarded $5,243,387 in ESG funds for 2013 and the City provided matching funding as required. The source of this match was from the City's Corporate fund and funds from the Illinois Department of Human Services (IDHS). DFSS administers the ESG program on behalf of the City. Activities funded with ESG dollars addressed the priorities set forth in the 2013 Action Plan. ESG funds are combined with additional state and local dollars to provide a continuum of homeless services including prevention, outreach, shelter, and supportive services. Overall, the shelter system funded by DFSS in 2013 served 14,998 persons with overnight and interim or transitional housing programs.

DFSS selects agencies to receive HUD ESG funding through a request for proposals (RFP) process. The last RFP was issued in 2012 to cover services in 2013. ESG funding is combined with other sources of funding (e.g., CDBG, Community Services Block Grant, City of Chicago corporate funding, IDHS Emergency and Transition Housing Program funding) to support the DFSS Homeless Services System and to further the Plan to End Homelessness 2.0. Proposals are reviewed within the context of the City's system-wide needs and the resources and programs necessary to implement Plan 2.0. Criteria that are used to review proposals include population served, cultural competence, program implementation, scope and outcomes, service coordination and integration, agency capacity and staffing, Homeless Management Information System (HMIS) participation, and cost effectiveness. An evaluation team, consisting of representatives of DFSS as well as officials from other federal, state, and local government agencies, reviews each proposal.

The number of clients reported for ESG activities reflect projects that received ESG funding. Taking into account the projects that receive match funding and funding from other sources, the DFSS shelter system serves a higher number of individuals than just those reported in ESG. Below is a description of the activities supported with ESG funds.

A. Street Outreach and Shelter

This program is designed to provide support services to persons served by emergency shelter or transitional housing. Supports include case management, life skills training, employment assistance, housing counseling, and referrals to medical care, mental health and substance abuse treatment, childcare, and other services meant to foster self-sufficiency. This funding also supports operating expenses for emergency shelters and transitional housing facilities. Operating expenses include rent, utilities, insurance, furnishings, and other maintenance costs. Projects receiving Street Outreach and Shelter funding served 8,090 clients in 2013.

B. Homeless Prevention Activities

DFSS also funds Homeless Prevention Activities that help individuals and families avoid homelessness. DFSS provides rental assistance to households at risk of becoming homeless, and funds delegates who provide homeless prevention programs that include legal advocacy and assistance accessing benefits. During 2013, 1,683 persons received services under the Homeless Prevention Activities category. Rental assistance was provided with a combination of ESG prevention funding and Community Services Block Grant funding.

C. Rapid Re-housing Activities

DFSS funded a Rapid Re-housing program that began in 2013. The project provided short- to medium-term rental assistance and housing stability services to help households who are homeless transition to permanent housing and remain stably housed. During 2013, 761 persons were served in the ESG Rapid Re-housing category, and 200 of these households were served with Rapid Re-housing financial assistance.

X. COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT BLOCK GRANT (CDBG)

In 2013, the City's CDBG award increased from the 2012 award by 2.7%, or approximately $1.9 million, from $71.9 million to $73.8 million. The City reduced the amount of reprogrammed funds budgeted from the previous year to keep existing programs funded at 2012 budgeted levels. Below is a detail of 2013 performance outcomes of the City's CDBG-funded Programs.

A. Chicago Department of Public Health

DPH uses epidemiological data to allocate resources and programs that support community residents in meeting selected health needs with the goal of becoming the healthiest city in the United States. With a strong commitment to prevention and to providing services that prevent unhealthy lifestyles that contribute to childhood and adult morbidity, mortality, and social problems, DPH allocated CDBG funds to an array of activities and services for low income, underserved individuals and families throughout the Chicago community. Those programs are:

- DPH Family Violence Prevention Initiative
- Primary Health Care for the Homeless
- Community Engaged Care
- High Risk Primary Health-HIV/AIDS Housing
- High Risk Primary Health-HIV/AIDS Prevention
- Lead Poisoning Prevention Program
- Mental Health Centers

1.) DPH Family Violence Prevention Initiative (DPH FVPI)⁶

DPH FVPI is a partnership between the Office of Substance Abuse and the Office of Violence Prevention that seeks to prevent family violence, child abuse, and childhood exposure to violence through primary prevention activities, crisis intervention and service linkages, parenting, substance abuse prevention, early identification of young children exposed to family violence, and services that support positive parenting and the prevention of partner abuse. The program has two core service components: 1) community based agencies that provide parenting skills training and 2) school-based substance abuse prevention programs. In 2013, eight agencies received FVPI funding.

In 2013, DPH FVPI served 1,827 clients. Some of the funded sites reported experiencing difficulties retaining program staff due to ongoing program budget reductions. Other delegates were able to meet and even exceed certain of the service projections, including parenting classes, planned trainings and activities. Of the parents that participated in parenting services, 685 were screened for domestic violence and over 3,480 persons received information about local services. Topics for the various parenting groups included domestic violence prevention, childhood exposure to violence, positive discipline, stress management, and conflict resolution.

During 2013, 174 students participated in community school-based substance abuse and violence prevention efforts. In the Chicago community area of Roseland and adjacent community areas, the violence prevention specialist provided classroom sessions at four local elementary and high schools (Dunne Technology Academy, Mount Vernon Elementary, Deneen School of Excellent, and Chicago Excel Academy) and at Teen Parenting Services. All agencies tracked improvement in understanding parenting skills via pre- and post-test results. Educational materials were translated for optimal impact and used with program participants and community outreach.

As verified by Chicago Police Department (CPD) quarterly statistics, DPH FVPI serves communities with historically high volumes of domestic and community violence emergency calls. DPH FVPI seeks to prevent family violence and mitigate its negative effects by strengthening parenting skills and relationships between adults and children and fostering protective factors and a sense of efficacy among school-aged children. Some of the FVPI agencies provide safe havens for family and youth-centric activities, cited as a best practice for effective violence prevention and reduction in the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) Youth Violence: Best Practices of Youth Violence Prevention: A Sourcebook for Community Action (October, 2009). Community Preventive Services Task Force, an ongoing effort convened by the CDC, recommends universal, school-based programs on the basis of strong evidence of effectiveness in preventing or reducing violent behavior. DPH FVPI program models also incorporate many of the nine key elements of best practice prevention programs identified by the Texas Council on Family Violence, such as comprehensive, varied teaching models, sufficient dosage and outcome evaluation.

Despite family violence prevention education providers' continuous efforts to improve services and outreach efforts, ongoing funding cuts have resulted in numerous challenges. These include an increased demand for case management service in the face of diminishing ancillary services in the surrounding community and difficulties in retaining qualified staff due to diminishing resources. Due to changes in the Chicago Public Schools policy, DPH staff may only connect students in need of information through presentations outside of the classroom. As a result, the number of students reached is fewer. Future service numbers will be adjusted to reflect this revised approach.

2.) Primary Health Care for the Homeless

The agencies providing healthcare services to persons who identify as being homeless provided 510 persons with a variety of services. This represents an increase over the number of persons served in 2012. All clients received medical and healthcare education and most received medical care or referrals, including referrals to a medical home. Adults and children received health education through individual or group sessions. In 2013, both agencies adjusted their service mix to better reach a targeted population, including persons making initial connections through a local homeless shelter or mobile van. Both programs experienced staff changes throughout the year, but were still able to meet their yearly target.

3.) Community Engaged Care

DPH is committed to improving access to quality breast cancer screening and treatment, promote education and awareness among the public and healthcare providers, and eliminate racial and ethnic disparities in breast cancer. DPH staff provided breast cancer mammography screening services to 2,565 low-income minority women who were uninsured and were at high risk of breast cancer. Mammography screenings were provided at our clinic sites in Englewood, Roseland, Uptown, and West Town in 2013. Individuals with abnormal readings were referred for further diagnostic study to community hospitals.

4.) High Risk Primary Health HIV/AIDS Housing

CDBG HIV/AIDS Housing program provides funding for agencies operating community-based programs that provide residential care, supportive services, and advocacy to individuals and families impacted by HIV/AIDS who are homeless or at risk of becoming homeless. The STI/HIV Division's CDBG award funded five project sponsors within the Chicago Eligible Metropolitan Statistical Area (EMSA). DPH provided housing to 72 households of very low to extremely low income families. In addition to the housing assistance, the recipients also receive access to supportive services such as case management, psychological counseling, substance abuse recovery support, and recreational activities.

All clients received individualized service and progress plans which addressed community living skills, housing stability, housing advocacy, and other social services. Safe and decent affordable housing is associated with improved medical outcomes for formerly homeless persons living with HIV/AIDS. Comprehensive case management provided by sub-grantees was a major factor in improving access to care, continuing care, and treatment success.

5.) High Risk Primary Health HIV/AIDS Prevention

The HIV Prevention Program's goal is to reduce the number of new HIV infections and provide health and risk reduction education and HIV counseling and testing to high-risk populations. The populations served with CDBG funds are homeless individuals and high-risk youth. HIV counseling and testing and hepatitis services are also provided to these targeted populations to help identify new HIV positive individuals and link them to treatment services. CDC has a national directive to slow the advancement of HIV disease and prevent new infections. CDC works with state and local governments through community planning groups to support HIV prevention services as well as to promote cooperation between health departments and community partners to identify priority HIV prevention needs.

DPH, guided by CDC's HIV Planning Guidance, works collaboratively with the Chicago Area HIV Integrated Services Council (CAHISC) to prioritize HIV prevention services that reduce HIV infection in Chicago by monitoring epidemiologic trends, behavioral research and shifts in community norms to make strategic prevention program recommendations. Together, CAHISC and DPH work to analyze data and to make prevention recommendations by:

- Identifying other non-epidemiologic data sources
- Identifying the technical assistance needs of service providers
- Recommending science-based interventions
- Developing, updating, and disseminating The Chicago HIV Prevention Jurisdictional Plan 2012-2014 Plan

- Fostering integration of the HIV prevention community planning process with other relevant planning efforts
- Identifying opportunities to develop service provider coalitions that support broad HIV prevention program goals
- Evaluating the planning process

The data used in the priority setting process is based on the STI/HIV/AIDS Chicago Surveillance Report, the Chicago Comprehensive HIV Prevention Plan and other CDC documents. The total number of clients served in 2013 was 1,916. This number is lower than the 60,000 number of clients projected in the 2013 Action Plan because duplicated clients were being reported in previous estimates. DPH will now project and report on unduplicated clients only.

6.) Lead Poisoning Prevention Program

The mission of the DPH's Childhood Lead Poisoning Prevention Program is to prevent lead poisoning by maximizing the availability of affordable lead safe housing in the City. Project activities include:

- Ensuring at-risk children are screened for lead poisoning
- Providing case management services for lead-poisoned children
- Inspecting the homes of lead-poisoned children for lead-hazards
- Ensuring that property owners properly remediate the lead hazard
- Referring non-compliant property owners to court
- Providing education and training on lead, lead-poisoning prevention, and lead-safe work practices
- Securing funding for lead abatement for those who otherwise could not afford to do the abatement

7.) Screening and Case Management

Preliminary data for 2013 indicates that 100,095 children under six years of age were screened for lead poisoning. All of these children were screened by non-program staff (i.e., physicians in private practice), indicating a continued commitment by physicians to identify children with lead poisoning. Of the total children screened, 839 (0.8%) were found to have lead poisoning, defined as having a level of lead of 10 ug/dl or greater. An additional 1,957 children under six years of age had levels between 5 and 10ug/dl. The program continues to ensure that children with lead poisoning receive case management services. Preliminary data for 2013 indicate that 608 children with lead-poisoning were provided these services. These same case management services were also provided to 146 infants with blood lead levels between 5 and 10 ug/dl.

8.) Inspection and Enforcement

The program continued to ensure the homes (or other locations where children may spend time) of children with lead poisoning are inspected for lead hazards, and that these hazards are remediated. A total of 1,019 houses were inspected. Following an initial inspection and assessment for lead hazards, re-inspections occurred to ensure the home is properly maintained or the required remediation is being done. Data for 2013 indicates that some 2,829 re-inspections took place. The final step is to ensure that the home is cleared of the hazard. Data for 2013 indicates that 803 homes (or other locations) were cleared. If property owners do not or are unable to remediate the hazard they are referred to court and forced to come into compliance. In 2013, 535 property owners were referred to court.

9.) Mental Health Centers

DPH is one of 150 mental health outpatient agencies funded by the Illinois Department of Human Services' Division of Mental Health and one of approximately 70 mental health agencies located in the Chicago metro area. DPH's goal in this area is to develop system-wide service delivery to clients, their relatives, their community, and others to increase their skills in normal settings.

DPH's Division of Mental Health is a safety net for Chicago residents who have few or no resources to pay for outpatient mental health services. DPH mental health services are provided to adults who are seriously mentally ill, who may be discharged from the State inpatient psychiatric hospital, are homeless, are undocumented or are referred by a family or friend or walk-in to a center for services. Payment is through Medicaid, Medicare, self-pay, or private insurance. CDBG-funded mental health centers include Englewood, North River, Greater Lawn, Lawndale, Greater Grand, and Roseland. In 2013, these centers served approximately 3,048 residents.

DPH continued to subsidize the cost of prescription medication. It also assists patients who are not able to afford medications to enroll in indigent pharmacy programs to receive medication at no cost from pharmaceutical companies. In addition, DPH provides assistance with housing applications to adults with mental illness, available through the Illinois Department of Human Services Division of Mental Health. Psychiatric staff schedules are rotated between centers to ensure that every center has a psychiatrist at least once a week. Administrative support work is also divided among administrative staff to efficiently cover all mental health centers.

B. Department of Family and Support Services

DFSS is dedicated to supporting a continuum of coordinated services to enhance the lives of Chicago residents, particularly those most in need, from birth through the senior years. DFSS works to promote the independence and well-being of neighborhoods by providing direct assistance and administering resources to a network of community-based organizations, social service providers, and institutions. In 2013, DFSS allocated CDBG funds to an array of activities and services to serve low income, underserved individuals, and families throughout the Chicago community through the following programs:

- Youth Services
- Family Violence Prevention Initiative (FVPI) and Domestic Violence
- Senior Services
- Human Services System
- Homeless Support Services
- Emergency Food Assistance Programs
- Workforce Services

1.) Youth Services

DFSS's Youth Services Division is committed to creating meaningful opportunities for youth who must overcome significant challenges in order to successfully transition from adolescence to adulthood. Some of the challenges faced by today's youth include cyclical poverty, high rates of violence and related trauma, school dropout, and high rates of under- and un-employment.

DFSS-funded delegate agencies provide various services to support and further develop youth resiliency skills to overcome challenges and improve outcomes for success. Specifically, DFSS's Youth Services Division provides a wide array of educational, recreational, cultural, and social enrichment opportunities, framed by evidence-based and best practices research, for Chicago's most economically disadvantaged youth, ages 6 to 18, during out of school time. In 2013, DFSS funded four distinct CDBG funded program models: Out of School Time, Mentoring, Behavioral Health Services, and Intensive Youth Services.

- Out of School Time programming provides opportunities for youth to participate in academic engagement, career pathway exploration, and supervised after-school and year-round programs that strengthen relationships with parents, teachers, peers, and community.
- Mentoring connects youth with trained, caring adults who provide supervision and guidance in support of youth development.
- Behavioral Health Services (formerly Counseling) provides services to low- and moderate-income youth and their families struggling to address issues that may negatively impact healthy youth engagement and well-being.
- Intensive Youth Services (formerly Gang Intervention and Prevention) offers initiatives aimed at overcoming barriers leading to an improved quality of life.

A wide variety of proven traditional mentoring and violence reduction program models are used to ensure that participants are equipped with 21st century skills. These models incorporate such strategies as social emotional learning; cognitive behavioral therapy; enriched parental relationships and guardian support; and access to credentialed academic assistance to help youth navigate away from high risk behavior and move toward conflict resolution and healthy life choices.

During 2013, CDBG funded youth programs provided the following services:

- Behavioral Health Services – 985 youth were served and received 13,814 hours of service
- Intensive Youth Services– 528 youth were served and received 12,744 hours of service
- Mentoring – 876 youth were served and received 36,997 hours of service
- Out of School Time – 11,790 youth were served and received 2,293,490 hours of service

In addition to the CDBG funded programs, DFSS Youth Services administers youth programming offering subsidized employment, intensive support services for youth involved with the justice system, and innovative opportunities to build skills for career and life success.

2.) Family Violence Prevention Initiative (FVPI) and Domestic Violence

DFSS funded delegate agencies to provide various services to survivors of domestic violence, including case management, counseling, court advocacy, legal services, economic support and stability, supervised child visitation and safe exchange. During 2013, CDBG-funded domestic violence programs provided the following services:

- Fifteen counseling and case management programs provided services to 3,034 clients, exceeding proposed outcomes by 117%.
- Three legal advocacy programs provided services to 1,342 clients, exceeding proposed outcomes by 153%.
- Two legal service programs provided services to 942 clients, exceeding proposed outcomes by 102%.
- Five support services for economic stability programs provided services to 351 clients.
- Three supervised visitation and safe exchange programs provided services to 144 families, exceeding proposed outcomes by 118%.
- Four resource and information advocate programs provided services to 2,714 clients, exceeding proposed outcomes by 181%.

3.) Senior Services

Each year, DFSS Senior Services Division becomes aware of more at-risk vulnerable seniors throughout our community. These seniors often have untreated physical or mental health issues, live in deplorable conditions without working utilities, or are victims of abuse, neglect, or exploitation by others including family and neighbors. Many are hoarders, and few have actively reached out to DFSS for assistance with their situation.

In 2013, DFSS Senior Services responded to 2,000 requests for Case Advocacy and Support for self-neglected seniors. After an initial assessment and triage by social workers and other specialists, 325 of these at-risk older adults were referred to one of our CDBG funded agencies to provide Intensive Case Advocacy and Support (ICAS) Services.

The goals of ICAS are: 1) establish a relationship with the senior; 2) assist the senior in understanding their issues and problems; 3) educate the senior about alternative services and referrals; 4) assist the senior in accepting services and referrals; 5) advocate on behalf of the senior for services and referrals; and 6) monitor the establishment of services and referrals.

While the goals are simple, the implementation of this common sense plan is complex. These clients are our most isolated and at-risk seniors – often they are hoarders and/or seniors with untreated mental health issues and severe dementia, who often do not realize that there is an issue. ICAS intervention takes months. Most interventions last between 4 and 16 months. Much of that time is spent developing relationships and establishing trust since these seniors, for various reasons, are often mistrustful, isolated, and private.

Because of this, traditional case management is not a solution. ICAS workers may spend 6-10 hours a week trying to work with each senior. It takes even longer to get the senior to accept assistance. ICAS workers hold the senior's hand and provide support and assistance through the entire process. The ICAS workers spends months working on small goals with the senior, at the senior's pace. Each plan is individualized to the needs and desires of the older vulnerable adult. ICAS workers then put in place various home and community based services such as chore, housing relocation, or home delivered meals. They often sort piles of papers with the senior, accompany a senior to his or her first doctor's appointment in 15 years, or cut through bureaucratic red tape to get someone's home out of foreclosure. Eventually, a safe plan of care is in place and the ICAS worker transitions the senior to long term care coordination, friendly visiting, or senior companion programs to provide ongoing support and monitoring of the senior to ensure that they maintain a level of well-being.

In addition to ICAS, CDBG funding was used to supplement funding for the City's senior Home-Delivered Meal program which is funded through multiple sources. In 2013, the Home-Delivered Meals program received more CDBG funds than anticipated, and was able to provide meals to 1,709 seniors.

4.) Human Services System

DFSS uses CDBG, as well as Community Services Block Grant (CSBG) and other funding sources, to support a Human Services System that addresses the critical and emergency human services needs of low-income persons and families. The goal of the human services system is to provide or help individuals and households access services that support positive outcomes that promote and help maintain self-sufficiency. Service programs are tailored to meet immediate, short-term, or long term needs.

CDBG funds the Human Services Mobile Outreach program (formerly the Emergency Services Division) that provides residents with round-the-clock emergency assistance. Calls to the City's non-emergency 311 system are referred electronically 24 hours a day, seven days a week, to the Human Services Mobile Outreach Center. In October 2012, DFSS contracted out this service to Catholic Charities of the Archdiocese of Chicago.

As crisis calls are received, the Human Services Mobile Outreach teams are dispatched to provide crisis intervention, transport clients to shelters, relocate clients among various shelters or locate alternative locations for hard-to-place clients, conduct wellness checks, and provide food and clothing. Human Services Mobile Outreach workers also refer clients to DFSS Community Service Centers when those individuals need longer-term assistance. Through cooperative agreements, homeless persons are able to report to any police station or hospital emergency room to request shelter and wait for Human Services Mobile Outreach teams to provide shelter transport. In 2013, 15,704 people received services through Human Services Mobile Outreach.

5.) Homeless Support Services

DFSS, along with its delegate agencies, has developed an integrated homeless service system. This consists of prevention services, outreach and assessment, emergency shelter and transitional housing, permanent housing for formerly homeless persons, and supportive services. DFSS utilizes CDBG funding to support this system, and combines CDBG dollars with a variety of other funding sources. In 2013, the projects that received CDBG Homeless Services funding served 7,244 persons, exceeding the proposed 5,590 people.

In coordination with Human Services Mobile Outreach, DFSS's Homeless Outreach and Prevention (HOP) team reaches the homeless living on the street and individuals who might not actively seek out services on their own. The HOP team conducts patrols around the city and in areas of known homeless encampments. The HOP Team shares the goals of DFSS's Homeless Outreach and Engagement Program, which is overseen by the Homeless Division and delivered through delegate agency contacts. The Outreach Program focuses on engaging and building relationships with homeless persons, with the goal of placing them into services including shelter and supportive housing. In 2013, the HOP Division served 14,742 clients.

DFSS also operates mobile outreach health units in a collaborative effort with DPH. The mobile units are customized vans that are used to provide health and social services to the city's homeless population. Services include outreach, intake, mental health and substance abuse screenings, physical examinations, health referrals, and shelter placement. A DFSS staff member, a public health nurse, and a driver staff the mobile units. In 2013, the mobile unit provided medical and social service assistance to 597 homeless individuals.

6.) Emergency Food Assistance for At-Risk Populations

DFSS uses CDBG as well as other sources of funding to support the Emergency Food Assistance for At-Risk Populations which is run through The Greater Chicago Food Depository. This program consolidates our two former programs: Emergency Food Box Program and the Food Supply to Shelter Program. The Consolidated Program's goal is to provide a strong food safety net so that residents can meet their nutritional needs regardless of income. There are three distribution models which expand access and availability of healthy and fresh food options to those individuals and families most in need: 1) Distribution to local food pantries within five miles of a DFSS community center (concentrating on food insecurity and food desert areas); 2) Distribution to homeless shelters identified by DFSS; and 3) Distribution to homebound individuals identified by DFSS through its Human Services Mobile Outreach Program.

To provide a greater quantity and better quality of food with higher nutritional content, in February 2013 DFSS transitioned from emergency food box distribution through our six community centers, to providing funding to approximately 80 pantries that distribute both non-perishable and perishable food products. To date, there are 100 pantries providing non-perishable and perishable food products such as fruit and vegetables, milk, eggs, and meat to city of Chicago residents. A person receives food products for three days or nine meals. This distribution model served 162,229 people in 2013.

Distribution of fruits and vegetables to homeless shelters provided sheltered individuals with the recommended daily serving of fruits and vegetables. This model served 14,998 individuals in 2013. Finally, homebound residents can receive an emergency food box by calling 311 and having it delivered by a Human Services Mobile Outreach team. The food box provides nutritious, non-perishable food products for 6 days. In 2013, the Human Services Mobile Outreach Program distributed boxes to 7,797 individuals. During the January transition period, an additional 2,916 food boxes were distributed through our community centers. In 2013, through all funding sources, DFSS served 187,940 individuals by distributing 2,154,528 pounds of food.

7.) Workforce Development

DFSS Workforce Services Division utilized CDBG funding to provide employment services to underserved Chicago residents. The target populations included the homeless, ex-offenders, CHA residents, immigrants, veterans, victims of domestic violence, and people with disabilities. Workforce Services funded two program designs in 2013: 1) Employment Preparation and Placement Services for Underserved Populations (Job Readiness Training); and 2) Industry Specific Training and Placement Services. Services included comprehensive assessment, case management, job readiness training, customized skills training, supportive services, placement assistance, and retention services.

The delegate agencies funded under these programs have expertise in case management, training, and providing job placement assistance. They have working relationships with many local businesses to assist clients in obtaining permanent unsubsidized employment. In 2013, Workforce Services provided Job Readiness Training to 1,305 individuals and Industry-Specific Training to 252 individuals. Overall, DFSS placed 1,141 into unsubsidized employment.

C. Mayors' Office for People with Disabilities

MOPD's programs are designed to promote and help people with disabilities achieve their maximum level of independence in every aspect of their life. As people with disabilities become more independent, they become active participants in their community and contributors to their neighborhood, resulting in improved community relations. MOPD's two program components are Independent Living for Disabled Persons and Disability Resources.

1.) Independent Living for Disabled Persons

The Independent Living Program (ILP) attempts to accomplish this objective through a multi-faceted approach, providing direct service, training, and education. Supportive services are provided to those who currently live in the community and who without help would most likely experience a detrimental decline in their standard of living that could lead to homelessness. An individual's goals are primarily based on that individual's expressed level of desired independence. The program incorporates this basic premise (personal responsibility) in all aspects of service delivery.

MOPD realizes that some people who need the service are not gaining access for one reason or another. As a result, MOPD has continued its outreach efforts to consumers, professionals and community leaders to inform them of the availability of its services and programs. MOPD has modified the ILP program to help promote awareness and increase ILP orientation attendance. Individuals who are interested in receiving services must attend MOPD's ILP orientation, where they receive useful information regarding this and other community-based programs that may be beneficial to an individual.

MOPD is dedicated to removing barriers that may hinder people with disabilities from achieving their maximum level of independence, whether they are attitudinal, structural or programmatic. The ILP program focuses on providing long-term solutions. The first step toward change is self-empowerment. MOPD's ILP Orientation educates people with disabilities on self-advocacy methods and on their rights. Under the ILP program an in-depth assessment is conducted to determine an individual's needs for maximum independence and a decent standard of living. People with disabilities are in need of decent housing, financial resources, transportation, recreation and health care, including eye and dental care.

Services offered under Independent Living for Disabled Persons program include Assistive Technology⁷, Personal Assistance/Homemaker Services, and Case Management and Daily Living Skills Training. These services are provided by delegate agencies. Cumulatively, 298 clients received Independent Living Services in 2013.

⁷ Assistive Technology involves the provision of and training on devices that will help an individual with disabilities perform daily living tasks independently.

- Personal Assistance/Homemaker service is provided to Chicagoans under the age of 60 who due to their disability are unable to perform household duties such as cleaning or shopping. MOPD provides a maximum of four hours per week for as long as the individual is eligible for services.
- The Case Management team attempts to link people with disabilities with viable resources that will help them meet their needs. The program is designed so that case management staff may be solely devoted to the social service needs of an individual. As a result of this innovative design clients are not simply assessed for personal assistance/homemaker services, but they are also able to receive quality assistance with other issues such as housing, transportation and employment.
- People with disabilities may also receive Daily Living Skills Training so that they may learn how to perform certain household tasks independently. Once an individual is able to function in their home, or once their home environment is made stable and suitable, they can begin to focus on other aspects of their lives such as economic opportunity.

MOPD has an Employment Service Division, and clients receive cross program education. Clients are made aware of assistance available through MOPD's Employment Service program during ILP orientation, and participants are reminded of MOPD's Employment Service program at least once a year during their annual reassessment. The ILP program is structured to ensure the accountability of the delegate agencies that implement the program. Guidelines are established to ensure the clients most in need of a service receive that service. Contractual agreements between MOPD and the delegate agencies that provide homemaker services (Help at Home and Salvation Army) require that homemakers complete MOPD's Disability Awareness & Etiquette Training as part of the agency's orientation.

2.) Disability Resources

Information and referral services are provided directly by MOPD staff and include Information Assistance, Advocacy, Short Term Counseling, Referral Services, and Practical Assistance. Information Assistance involves giving individuals information such as a phone number on how to access services. Advocacy for clients involves contact with both the client and community programs and services to assist the client in obtaining assistance. Common advocacy activities involve utility reconnection, obtaining financial assistance, and reapplication for community services for which a client may have been denied. Practical Assistance usually involves face-to-face contact with an individual and assistance with completing an application or form or with writing a letter. Referral Service is an arrangement for service with a provider. It involves linkage with the appropriate resource(s) to ensure the necessary service will be delivered to the client. Based on prior year service trends, MOPD projected that 24,000 individuals would receive Information and Referral Services in 2013 and 26,204 people were actually served.

XI. HOUSING OPPORTUNITIES FOR PERSONS WITH AIDS (HOPWA)

In 2013, the City's HOPWA award decreased approximately 5% from 2012 levels. In 2012 the City received $6,417,879, and in 2013, the grant was reduced to $6,107,650. Since 1992, DPH's division of STI/HIV has administered the City's HOPWA program. The STI/HIV Division coordinates and oversees a broad range of HIV/AIDS programs including direct services, public policy advocacy and prevention, and service provider education and training. HOPWA supports community based programs that provide housing to eligible low-income persons living with HIV throughout EMSA, which includes Cook, Dekalb, DuPage, Grundy, Kane, Kendall, McHenry, and Will counties. The STI/HIV Division also administers CDBG funds for housing services, HIV prevention funding from the Centers for Disease Prevention and Control, and Ryan White Title I funds from the Health Resources and Services Administration.

As the administrator of these multiple funding sources, the STI/HIV Division is uniquely able to meet the variety of needs of people living with HIV, in compliance with HUD’s performance measure outcomes: housing stability, homelessness prevention, and access to healthcare, and other support services. In partnership with two community planning bodies, the STI/HIV Division regularly undertakes thorough needs assessment processes and develops comprehensive plans to prioritize HIV needs and allocate resources, allowing the Chicago area to maximize resources and leverage additional ones.

The STI/HIV Division’s HIV Housing program has ongoing experience with collaboration, planning, and decision-making around multiple HIV/AIDS-related services and prevention projects across different organizations and service providers. The STI/HIV Division is an active participant of the Chicago Area HIV Integrated Planning Council (CAHISC). The Council integrates the mandated HIV Prevention Planning Group and Ryan White Part A Planning Council, and includes the HIV Housing Program. In addition, the STI/HIV Division has been a member of the Consolidated Plan Steering Committee, a group that presents strategies in addressing the needs of low-income communities, and is a contributing partner in the formation of the Consolidated Plan. The STI/HIV Division is an active partner with AIDS Foundation of Chicago in the development of the 2013-2017 Five-Year Chicago Area AIDS Housing Plan and supports the AIDS Housing Advisory Council which consists of consumers of HOPWA programs. In 2013, the Council was active in evaluating the deliverables and bench-marks of the 2008-2012 Five-Year Chicago Area AIDS Housing Plan. The HIV Housing program exceeded the projected overall program year 2013 established goal of 1,487 with a total of 1,720 units of service.

HOPWA resources are directed toward the provision of community residence operating support, housing information services and tenant based rental assistance activities. The HOPWA formula funds were expended in the following categories of services:

| Service Category | Performance Data | Funding Amount |
|---------------------------------------|------------------------------|-----------------------|
| Community Residence Operating Support | 458 Units of Service | $3,313,703 |
| Tenant Based Rental Assistance | | $1,938,974 |

| Short-Term Rent Assistance | 134 Units of Service | N/A |
| Housing Information Services | 942 (households/individuals) | $691,482 |

A. Community Residence Operating Support

Community residence services maintain bed capacity at community residential facilities for low-income individuals and low-income families who are homeless or in imminent danger of becoming homeless. This program provides both permanent and transitional housing. Clients under this program develop personalized service plans and receive support services including case management.

The Community Residence Operating Support project sponsors the following agencies: Agape Missions, AIDS Foundation of Chicago, Asian Human Services, Alexian Brothers Bonaventure House, Anixter Center-CALOR, Canticle Ministries, Inc., Chicago House and Social Services Agency, Children's Place Association, Christian Community Health Center, Community Supportive Living System, Edge Alliance, FOLA Community Action Services, Haymarket Center (McDermott Center), Heartland Health Outreach, Heartland Human Care Services, Inc.-EPOCH, Heartland Human Care Services, Inc.-Summit, Housing Opportunities for Women, Inc., Human Resources Development Institute Inc., Interfaith House, Legal Assistance Foundation, Pilsen Wellness Center, Unity Parenting & Counseling Inc.

B. Housing Information Services

The Housing Information Services program works to assist people find safe, decent and affordable housing by identifying local housing resources, developing a comprehensive inventory of available housing units, and building relationships with landlords in the private market for referral of persons seeking housing. Legal services are also available to persons facing eviction or housing discrimination.

The Housing Information Services project sponsors the following agencies: The AIDS Foundation of Chicago (AFC), Asian Human Services, FOLA Community Action Services, Human Resources Development Institute (HRDI), and the Legal Assistance Foundation (LAF).

C. Rental Assistance

The Rental Assistance programs target low-income and extremely low-income individuals disabled by HIV/AIDS to avoid homelessness during periods of illness or financial difficulties. The Long-term Rental Assistance programs and Short-term Rent, Mortgage and Utility programs make payments to prevent homelessness for a tenant or mortgage holder of the residence. The Tenant Based Rental Assistance project sponsors the AIDS Foundation of Chicago.

XII. SUMMARY OF PUBLIC COMMENTS

The first community development public hearing was held on March 6, 2014 at the Chicago Cultural Center. The Hearing gave citizens the opportunity to comment on the 2013 Draft CAPER, 2015 Annual Action Plan, as well as the 2015-2019 Consolidated Plan. The 30-day public comment period for the CAPER began March 6, 2014 and ended March 21, 2014. A summary of public and written comments received during the comment period follows.

| Individual | Organization | Summary of Comments and Responses |

| Karen Boyd | Member of Disabilities Rights Advocate Group for Housing (DRAG) | Affordable, economical and safe housing environment is important to the disabled and aging population. Knowing that you can age in a safe place and stay in your community offers a better quality of life. It's absolutely critical the Department of Planning and Development (DPD) create a modification fund so people with disabilities will not be forced into a state of homelessness, institutions, or into nursing homes. In addition, affordable housing for people with disabilities is limited. DPD needs to increase the number of housing units for people with disabilities that have children and families and are married. |
| Michael Grice | Member of DRAG | The Low-Income Housing Trust Fund has been around for the last 20 years and nothing has been done regarding people with disabilities, specifically it has failed to produce a modification fund. As a result, people with disabilities are going to remain in nursing homes and institutions. It's time for that fund to be created. We've been discriminated against for too long. I, my brother, and sister reside in a nursing home and we are trying to get out. Without a modification plan, it's not going to be possible for us to live where we want and that's basically our right, to live where we want. The modification fund should be created now. |
| Beto Barrera | Access Living | First, I want to say I would like to thank all the departments for your efforts. I know the budgets are really low and you're doing all you really can. [DPD] has heard a lot from our colleagues at DRAG, which is a group of consumers with disabilities whose main goal is to create more affordable, subsidized, and integrated housing for people with disabilities. I've worked for Access Living for 25 years now. The one thing we find need right now is a modification fund within the low-income Housing Trust Fund. We are holding DPD responsible for not encouraging the Trust Fund to create a modification fund exclusively for individuals that live in that particular program. MOPD's modification fund is great, but it can't meet the need or demand that's out there. MOPD provides funds for maybe 50 to 60 individuals per year. Up to 300 apply per year. I know people who live within the Trust Fund are also eligible to apply, but it's not out there. The Chicago Housing Authority (CHA) created a modification fund for participants with the voucher program. During an assessment of the 504 or some type of self-evaluation, CHA found that the voucher program was the only program that was in compliance with federal mandates on servicing people with disabilities. We don't know DPD's involvement with |

| Philip Englert | AIDS Foundation of Chicago-Volunteer | I currently live in an apartment that's supported by HOPWA Housing Advocacy Program and HRSA Ryan White Case Management Program. Through various programs my landlord receives funding from the Rental Housing Support Program. I have lived with AIDS for more than 20 years, only after I was diagnosed with cancer and its effects that I became unable to support myself. I receive $1186 from Social Security Disability, but a market rate studio in Rogers Park is a little over $700 a month, which is 60 percent of my income. Thankfully, I was able to secure a rental unit using the Chicago Low-Income Trust Fund's Rental Subsidy Program. I only pay 30 percent of my monthly income. The stability of housing allows me to take care of myself and maintain my health. I now volunteer and co-facilitate Tenant Empowerment Seminars. |
| Angelique Miller | Director of Housing and Support Services, AIDS Foundation of Chicago | I'm respectfully submitting comment in support of increasing the affordable housing stock for low-income individuals and families, specifically those with chronic medical conditions, including HIV. The last Chicago area AIDS Housing Plan that was done in 2013 estimates that there are about 11,000 low-income households that live with HIV that can benefit from affordable housing. With monthly social security income of $710 and market rate rent for a studio being $727 monthly, many individuals are forced to choose between basic necessities or rent, substandard housing, dangerous areas, and limited access to medical and support services. Funding from HOPWA to provide a rental subsidy to 150 households, to ensure that recipients are paying only 30 percent of their income, has assisted many to improve their quality of lives. But more is needed. We support efforts to increase these types of subsidies to address the unmet need. We additionally support and ask for expansion of programs such as the Chicago Low-Income Housing Trust Fund. The program has supported many HIV individuals to access affordable housing across the city. With decreases to the Rental Housing Support Program funding, the city must look at avenues to maintain and expand support. Additionally, we support allocation of modification funds, emergency housing, and utility assistance. Lastly, AIDS Foundation of Chicago programs and partnerships support over a thousand households with a variety of housing and social support programs. |
| Keishana Miller | Non-Affiliated | The first thing I would like to address is the accessibility of these meetings. On the Housing and Urban Development's website, part of the federal guidelines is that the City does an extensive job of incorporating and advising the people of Chicago of meeting times and making it accessible. It was hard to get to, no parking; people are coming from work, and only put into three papers. Unacceptable. More low and moderate income families could have been involved and expressed their concerns had the City done a |

Looking into it, it looks like most of the money went towards the North Side of Chicago. The suffering and struggling is on the West and South Sides of Chicago. And a third thing, I want to add. When you go through the City's annual budget, during the public comments they stated that not many people from the African American or Hispanic community provided comments and that is why money wasn't given to them. Crime Prevention is targeted towards the Austin and Englewood area, so it seems money is used when it comes time to lockup minorities, and for low-income housing peoples with AIDS, disabilities and providing jobs. Going forward, I expect the City to be more accountable for what the money is used for. |
| Geraldine Smith | Life Builders United | My request is get better understandings as to why meetings like these can't be held in the communities where there is need. My second question is to Department of Family and Support Services (DFSS). I have a non-profit organization, and I've been trying to get certified with the Department of Human Services because I deal with a lot of children. Each representative that I encounter is giving me the runaround, could you please help me? Response: Ms. Roberson of DFSS, Yes. |
| Dolphin Norris | Life Builders United | First of all, I have not been to one of these meeting in years. I'm grateful for the diversity. The last time I was at a meeting was 25 years ago, it was mostly white males. I've been gone from here for 22 years. I'm appalled at seeing the condition of the city in a lot of cases. So I want to address Community on Development, Violence committee, Streets and Sanitation, Housing and Development. With expected growth of 800,000 people in 25 years in the city, there's nowhere for them to go except the African American community, which has been completely devastated, Englewood in particular. I've witnessed demolition of perfectly good buildings, and bricks in Chicago are priceless. They're being sold all over the world at a profit of the African American community. Second thing, Community on Development is going to run everybody out of the city. $720 for a studio, who can afford that? The largest project in North American planning over 100,000 new residents is being done in the black community on 79th street called Lakeside Manor. With the 800,000 coming, you're going to rent it all out. Chicago is getting an image. Black people all over America are afraid to come to Chicago because the media portrays us as villains. Yet, all other groups are coming by the thousands. What are you going to do about that? Street and Sanitation, I got it documented, tear down a tree which children played on it. No response. We all about potholes. 69th Street is like demolition derby. Also, the last thing. Why in the African American community are 95 percent of the officers on duty young whites? They're diversified everywhere else, in any other communities. The largest amount of overtime for the police department, that's Englewood. As was stated |

| Frederick Collins | NAACP Westside Branch | I'm a longtime, lifelong Chicagoan. I just want to say, it takes courage to have a disability and still show up and speak for yourself. My wife has been diagnosed with cancer for over 20 years. I'm her caretaker. She can't really use her hands to get around. So, I don't know how much courage it takes for these ladies and gentlemen to show up in a chair without the use of their limbs and speak. That's why these meetings should move into the communities where they can best be served. And as a member of the NAACP Westside Branch, we're going to be holding you in the future for more accessibility. We will be making these calls to Washington. Chicago is a great city, not for its architecture per se, but because of the people's spirit. You would see that when we all work together in unison to bring in every area, this will truly be the great city we know it can be. I know some of you are heads of your departments and some are representing. I know your hands are tied. And they talk about budgets. But anytime our Mayor can find money to build another sport center for DePaul, I'm sure he'll find money to revitalize some homes. We've got to get our priorities straight. |
| Cedric Ferguson | Collins for Chicago | I would like to talk about the conditions of City of Chicago. On 87 th and California there's a traffic light that's been lying on the ground for a week, which is still functioning. The people have been calling and complaining with no response. There are five bureaus of sanitation; someone should have been over to take care of that. Another thing is it makes no sense that the City of Chicago streets to look like they do. With over 2,000 trucks out there filling potholes, it wasn't on the Westside. It was downtown, Northside, and Lakeshore Drive. Each department in the City of Chicago is supposed to represent the city in its entirety. But what are we seeing is when you tear down a building, who puts it back up? Englewood has more vacant lots than houses, it makes no sense. It's time that the department heads and the City of Chicago come up with a plan that's going to be better for everyone. |

(exp. 8/31/2009)

Public reporting burden for this collection of information is estimated to average 2.5 hours per response, including the time for reviewing instructions, searching existing data sources, gathering and maintaining the data needed, and completing and reviewing the collection of information. This agency may not conduct or sponsor, and a person is not required to respond to, a collection of information unless that collection displays a valid OMB control number.

The HOME statute imposes a significant number of data collection and reporting requirements. This includes information on assisted properties, on the owners or tenants of the properties, and on other programmatic areas. The information will be used: 1) to assist HOME participants in managing their programs; 2) to track performance of participants in meeting fund commitment and expenditure deadlines; 3) to permit HUD to determine whether each participant meets the HOME statutory income targeting and affordability requirements; and 4) to permit HUD to determine compliance with other statutory and regulatory program requirements. This data collection is authorized under Title II of the Cranston-Gonzalez National Affordable Housing Act or related authorities. Access to Federal grant funds is contingent on the reporting of certain project-specific data elements. Records of information collected will be maintained by the recipients of the assistance. Information on activities and expenditures of grant funds is public information and is generally available for disclosure. Recipients are responsible for ensuring confidentiality when public disclosure is not required.

This form is intended to collect numeric data to be aggregated nationally as a complement to data collected through the Cash and Management Information (C/MI) System. Participants should enter the reporting period in the first block. The reporting period is October 1 to September 30. Instructions are included for each section if further explanation is needed.

APPENDIX 7 - HOPWA TOTAL BENEFICIARIES REPORT

PY 2013 - Total Beneficiaries Receiving Housing Assistance

Housing Opportunities for Persons with AIDS (HOPWA) Program

CAPER/IDIS Beneficiary Verification Worksheets,

PY 2013 - Total Beneficiaries Receiving Housing Assistance

The CAPER/IDIS Beneficiary Verification Worksheets have been created to complement the standard use of the HOPWA Consolidated Annual Performance and Evaluation Report (CAPER) to allow for provided required information on beneficiaries. The worksheet also will help avoid issues with inconsistencies between HOPWA reporting requirements, as issued January 24, 2008 and the screens as shown in the newly released IDIS Online. The HOPWA CAPER (form HUD-40110-D, expiration date 12-31-2010) continues as the standard format for HOPWA annual reporting. In addition to essential data on project setup and disbursement of funds, a few other reporting elements have been provided only through IDIS in the pats and are included on the worksheets. In addition to addressing the inconsistencies in these elements, the worksheets will help reduce any need for further data verification by providing this step to confirm annual grantee data on these elements at the beginning of the data compilation on these reports. Please note, the system enhancements and this use of the worksheets is part of an effort to streamline reporting.

The Office of HIV/AIDS Housing is providing the following guidance:

- Continue to report annual accomplishment data in the HOPWA CAPER. To comply with the approved paperwork collection authority for HOPWA, grantees must continue using the approved HOPWA CAPER (form HUD-40110-D. Expiration Date 12/31/2010)) to provide annual performance information.
- Complete the CAPER/IDIS Beneficiary Verification Worksheets. Grantees will submit the HOPWA Beneficiary Verification Worksheets that provide data elements on client demographics and other accomplishment details currently not collected in the CAPER but previously reported in IDIS. Formula grantees will complete the worksheets and submit them to the Office of HIV/AIDS Housing (and HUD Field Office) with their completed CAPER (for as a supplement, if the 08-09 CAPER has already be filed for grantees reporting during 2009. Pending future IDIS modernization efforts, grantees do not need to report beneficiary or accomplishment data in HOPWA screens shown in IDIS Online. This will simplify reporting by allowing grantees to report this data only once.
- Continue to use IDIS to setup projects and access funds. HOPWA Formula grantees will still be required to use IDIS for project/activity set-up and financial draw-downs. Grantees will continue to follow the guidance IDIS for HOPWA Grantees: A Guide to Using IDIS and tie HOPWA projects to a single funding allocation, and activities to each program year.
- Record Keeping. Names and other individual information must be kept confidential, as required by 24 CFR 574.440. However, HUD reserves the right to review the information used to complete the CAPER/IDIS Beneficiary Verification worksheets for grants management oversight purposes, except for recording any names and other identifying information. Information is reported in aggregate to HUD without personal identifications. Do not submit client or personal information in data systems to HUD or addresses of confidential sites.

APPENDIX 10 - IMPEDIMENTS TO FAIR HOUSING

Private Sector Impediments

Discrimination in Housing, Gentrification, Foreclosures, and Unfair Lending Practices are the impediments attributed to the private sector.

Impediment One – Discrimination in Housing

Many housing providers continue to discriminate against members of the protected classes. Housing complaints filed with the Department of Housing and Urban Development from 2000 through 2009 show housing discrimination based on race/ethnicity and disability were the two complaints most commonly filed with respect to rental properties. Rental complaints significantly outnumbered sales complaints. Complaints filed with the Commission on Human Relations from 2005 through 2009 shows housing discrimination based on race was the second most commonly filed complaint with source of income the most common discrimination complaint.

On the Basis of Race/Ethnicity

While racial and ethnic diversity in Chicago has increased communities have not proportionately become more racially and ethnically integrated. The Survey Research Laboratory at the University of Illinois at Chicago conducted the Chicago Area Study. Face-to-face interviews with 789 randomly selected adults living in Cook County households were conducted in 2004 and 2005. Respondents were asked, based on their race or ethnicity, did they feel they had experienced a landlord/real estate agent not renting or selling to them, racial steering, bias in mortgage lending, or unfriendly neighbors. Survey participants were equally divided among blacks, whites and Latinos. Forty-one percent blacks, 32 percent Latinos, and 18 percent whites reported experiencing housing discrimination based on their race/ethnicity. Respondents were also asked if they knew anyone who had experienced housing discrimination. Responses were close to the first-hand experiences. This data suggests prevalence of housing discrimination on the basis of race/ethnicity.

In August 2010, HUD announced that it had filed an administrative complaint against homeowners, their real estate agent, and a Chicago real estate firm. According to the complaint, the homeowners “committed unlawful discrimination” by refusing to sell their home to a black family “after the making of a bona fide offer because of their race, African-American.”

Actions to Eliminate Impediment

1. The City will continue to fund delegate agencies that investigate and litigate discriminatory housing practices.
2. The Commission on Human Relations will continue to aggressively enforce the Chicago Fair Housing Ordinance.
3. The Commission will continue to expedite fair housing investigations.
4. The Commission will continue to work with the City’s Corporation Counsel to develop procedures that allow for initiation of its own complaints against parties involved in discriminatory practices.

5. The City will continue to support fair housing organizations seeking funding through HUD's Fair Housing Initiative Program (FHIP) for testing, counseling, and advocacy to help root out housing discrimination.
6. All redevelopment agreements between the City and developers/individual owners include an anti-discrimination clause in hiring of contractor and renting to tenants. This clause is monitored by DPD.
7. DPD will emphasize tenant education and information components in its rental housing strategies.
8. DPD will continue the Chicago Rents Right campaign, which provides landlords and tenants with assistance in meeting their legal obligations and exercising their rights.

On the Basis of Disability

Over 10 percent of non-institutionalized Chicago residents reported having a particular kind of disability including persons who are visually impaired, persons who are hearing impaired, persons with developmental disabilities, ambulatory disabilities, self-care difficulty, persons with psychiatric disabilities, and persons with cognitive disabilities in 2009. HUD's 2005 Disability Discrimination Study assessed discrimination against people who use wheelchairs and who are deaf. The summary of findings concluded that the disabled experienced more adverse treatment compared to the abled when inquiring about advertised rental housing, specifically housing providers

- 1) informed disabled customers about fewer available housing units,
- 2) denied disabled customers the opportunity to inspect units,
- 3) gave less information about the application process,
- 4) denied requests for reasonable modification and reasonable accommodation to make the unit fully accessible and
- 5) refused to designate accessible parking space for a wheelchair user.

The supply of available rental units for people with disabilities continues to be limited in Chicago. The 2009 American Community Survey shows that over 78 percent of all housing units in Chicago were built prior to the Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973. While older housing units may be more affordable they are less likely to be suitable for people with disabilities and have higher energy costs. The majority of accessible housing for people with disabilities is an institutional setting or federal 811 properties which are specifically for persons with disabilities, not in the private market. Lack of affordable housing that is accessible is exacerbated for the disabled, who are often unemployed and poor. Discrimination and insufficient housing that meets accessibility needs can lead to institutionalization or homelessness for people with disabilities.

There is disability among all age, racial, ethnic and economic groups. Data Table 23 shows that 41 percent of people over age 65 have a disability, compared to 8 percent under age 65 and 4 percent under age 18. The 2009 American Community Survey indicates that 15 percent blacks, 9 percent whites and 7 percent Latinos who are non-institutionalized reported having a disability. The greatest percentages of disabled reside in communities defined as African American.

In July 2010, HUD charged a Chicago architect and developer with failure to build apartments that are accessible to persons with disabilities. Units built were inaccessible to persons with disabilities including having doorways too narrow, and kitchens and bathrooms that did not have adequate maneuvering space.

Actions to Eliminate Impediment

1. Expand the City’s Home Modification Program to assist more people with disabilities 59 years of age or younger living in housing units that need accessibility modifications.
2. Expand education, outreach and assistance particularly to housing providers, developers and architects regarding their role and responsibility to provide fair housing and reasonable accommodations.
3. Educate the disabled community about their Fair Housing rights and make appropriate referrals for discrimination cases.

On the Basis of Source of Income

Source of income was the most frequently named basis in housing discrimination complaints filed with the Commission on Human Relations from 2005 through 2009. Claims of discrimination on the basis of source of income represented an all time high of two thirds of new cases. These cases usually involve Section 8 voucher (k/n/a Housing Choice Vouchers) holders most of whom are single female head of household. Household income must be below 50% average median income to qualify for HCV. The City’s discrimination ordinance covers Section 8 vouchers and certificates within the definition of source of income — a protection afforded by no other discrimination law covering Chicago. It is therefore illegal in the City of Chicago to refuse to accept housing vouchers or discriminate against persons seeking housing based on their participation in the voucher program. The Housing Choice Voucher Program (HCV) is a federally funded program which provides a housing subsidy to low-income families to obtain housing in the private market. The program is a continuation of the federal government’s policy of using private, market-based approaches as an alternative to public welfare programs.

The Lawyers’ Committee for Better Housing, Inc. issued a report based on testing of Chicago housing providers to determine the extent of discrimination on the basis of source of income.

The report “Locked Out: Barriers to Choice for Housing Voucher Holders, Report on Section 8 Housing Choice Voucher Discrimination” found that: 1) HCV holders routinely face source of income discrimination from Chicago landlords, 2) evidence of increased discrimination and difficulty for voucher holders seeking housing in targeted areas, and 3) evidence that HCV holders face additional housing discrimination on the basis of race or ethnicity.

Actions to Eliminate Impediment

1. Educate HCV program participants about complaint filing procedures.
2. Outreach to landlords and housing management companies advising that discrimination against HCV holders is a violation of the Chicago Fair Housing Ordinance.
3. Increased enforcement of the City’s Fair Housing Ordinance.
4. Collaboration between the CHA and the City of Chicago to address discrimination against voucher holders.
5. The Commission will continue to accept complaints based on source of income by individuals alleging discrimination due to their participation in the Housing Choice Voucher Program.
6. Voucher recipients Outreach will be conducted to advise landlords that discrimination of Housing Choice violate the Chicago Fair Housing Ordinance.

Impediment Two – Gentrification

When low-income neighborhoods experience a “re-birth” through an influx of middle and upper-income residents and businesses which cater to a new constituency, often dramatic increases in housing costs and taxes make it difficult for low-income residents to remain in their homes and neighborhoods. As housing costs rise the availability of affordable rental units may decrease. Rising property taxes, condominium conversion, and new construction projects favor ownership over rental all reduce options in City neighborhoods for those at the lower end of the economic scale that are protected by fair housing legislation. These trends can negatively affect minorities, seniors, person with disabilities, and single parent households. The result is potential or actual reduction of diversity in impacted neighborhoods, and concentration and segregation of persons in protected classification within poorer neighborhoods.

Actions to Eliminate Impediment

1. DPD will continue to support the Chicago Community Land Trust, preserving long-term affordability for homes created through City of Chicago programs.
2. DPD will continue to support the Affordable Requirements Ordinance under which all residential developments receiving City financial assistance, zoning changes, or involving City-owned land must provide a percentage of units at affordable prices to income eligible buyers or renters.
3. DPD will continue to support the Affordable Housing Density Bonus program, providing additional developable square footage to downtown developers who either providing on-site affordable housing units or contributing to the City’s Affordable Housing Opportunity Fund.

4. Under Chicago Partnerships for Affordable Neighborhoods (CPAN), the City will continue to provide affordable units in market-rate developments through developer write-downs and purchase price assistance to buyers.
5. Maintain and develop relationships with key community contacts (alderman, police, community organizations, schools, churches, etc.) to inform them of the services available through the Commission on Human Relations to help prevent and defuse community tensions.
6. Provide assistance to hate crime victims in those instances where tensions and conflicts manifest themselves in the form of violent, unlawful acts, which may arise when a neighborhood experiences dramatic change. The City will continue to address these problems through the work of the Education, Outreach and Intergroup Relations program of the Commission on Human Relations.

Impediment Three – Foreclosures and Unfair Lending Practices

Foreclosures, often times resulting from unfair lending practices, lead to property abandonment and may cause a severe blight on communities. The City devotes considerable resources to preventing foreclosure whenever possible and, when it does occur, helps reduce the impact on families and neighborhoods. DPD spearheads the City's efforts to combat predatory and unfair lending, which has been a leading cause in high foreclosure and property abandonment rates in Chicago neighborhoods. Predatory lenders frequently target vulnerable populations with limited credit and access to capital. To assist with this impediment to fair housing, the City institutes and supports regulatory controls, assistance to victimized or at risk homeowners, and programs to rehabilitate the vacant buildings left behind after foreclosure. In addition to supporting anti-predatory-lending laws, the City has committed financial resources through the Troubled Building Initiative to rehabilitate foreclosed and troubled homes and condos for resale as affordable ownership or rental units.

Actions to Eliminate Impediment

1. The City will support legislation which addresses unfair lending practices.
2. The City will continue to employ early intervention whenever possible through outreach efforts and encouraging borrowers to seek assistance at the first signs of distress.
3. Through the Neighborhood Lending Program, emergency loans will continue to be provided to homeowners in danger of losing their homes to foreclosure.
4. The City will continue to fund the Emergency Housing Assistance Program that provides emergency repairs to preserve homes occupied by very low-income households.
5. The City will continue to fund counseling services under its homeownership programs to help new homeowners avoid common pitfalls that often lead to foreclosure.

6. The City, in coordination with local partners, will continue to alert residents to scams and illegal practices associated with predatory and unfair lending practices, particularly to those populations most vulnerable.
7. The City continues to implement aggressive programs to secure, demolish, or rehabilitate vacant buildings left behind after foreclosure.
8. The City, through the Neighborhood Stabilization Program, will continue to provide resources for the purchase and rehabilitation of foreclosed properties.

Public Sector Impediments

Availability of Affordable and Suitable Housing and Lack of Fair Housing Knowledge are impediments found in the public sector.

Impediment Four – Availability of Affordable and Suitable Housing

A high percentage of Chicago residents pay greater than thirty percent of their income for rent. In many cases these families live in deteriorated units and overcrowded conditions.

Actions to Eliminate Impediment

1. DPD oversees the Low-Income Housing Trust Fund, which provides rental assistance for families under 30% of area median income.
2. The City provides grants and loans to developers for the construction or rehabilitation of multi-unit affordable rental developments. Special priority is given to developing units available to renters at or below 60% area median income.
3. DPD has been designated by HUD to serve as its local representative in restructuring financing for projects with expiring section 8 contracts.
4. The City supports the Chicago Housing Authority (“CHA”) Plan for Transformation. Upon completion the Plan will have rehabilitated 25,000 units of public housing, and will continue to meet the housing needs of low income Chicago residents through the Housing Choice Voucher Program.
5. The CHA continues to enhance its landlord outreach and mobility counseling for Housing Choice Voucher participants through collaborations with local real estate providers, advocacy groups and social service agencies. This effort allows the CHA to increase affordable housing choices for very low-income households by providing families with the opportunity to choose privately owned rental housing.
6. The City will continue to facilitate the development of affordable rental housing for larger families through both rehabilitation programs and new construction, particularly for those under 60% of area median income.

7. The City will design and implement strategies to preserve rental properties supported by HUD-subsidized mortgages eligible for prepayment, expiring Section 8 contracts and tax credit financing.
8. The Chicago Housing Authority (“CHA”) is actively working to rehabilitate Chicago’s public housing stock by dedensifying neighborhoods and deconcentrating poverty. The CHA continues to provide expanded housing choice to residents with the rehabilitation of 2,561 scattered-site public housing units located throughout the City’s 77 community areas. The CHA has also established Exception Rents (up to 300% of the established payment standard) for families participating in the HCV program who wish to move to lower poverty, opportunity areas throughout Chicago. In addition, the CHA’s Property Investment Initiative is a collaboration with various departments of the City of Chicago and other affordable housing stakeholders to acquire three or more bedroom housing units that will be available for rent as public housing units.
9. DPD will continue its support of the Rents Rights program and work with partner Departments, including the Commission on Human Relations, to educate landlords and tenants about anti-discrimination laws.

Impediment Five - Lack of Fair Housing Knowledge

An educated public is the best deterrent to fair housing law violations. Fair housing education needs to be ongoing so that members of the protected classes know their rights and remedies under law. Residential property owners, property managers, realtors, developers, architects and providers of affordable housing need to know their legal responsibilities regarding fair housing design and reasonable accommodations requirements.

Actions to Eliminate Impediment

1. Expand ongoing community outreach through workshops, housing fairs, seminars and literature distribution through collaboration with community based organizations.
2. The City will continue to fund delegate agencies and support fair housing organizations seeking FHIP funding to educate both users and providers of housing concerning fair housing obligations.
3. Access to fair housing information through use of new technologies.
4. Availability of fair housing information in multiple languages.
5. Train existing housing counseling and home ownership agencies to provide fair housing education and information.
6. CHR will meet with and train landlords, real estate agents and others in the real estate industry to provide them with an understanding of Chicago’s Fair Housing Ordinance.
7. Disseminate fair housing information at all mandated HUD public hearings and the City’s annual community development grant application workshop.
