WHEREAS, the decision of the Office of the Zoning Administrator rendered, reads: “Application not approved. Requested certification does not conform with the applicable provisions of the Chicago Zoning Ordinance, Title 17 of the Municipal Code of Chicago, specifically, Section 17-13-1200.”

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on this application by the Zoning Board of Appeals at its regular meeting held on January 21, 2011; and

WHEREAS, the district maps show that the premises is located in an RT-4 Zoning District; and

WHEREAS, the Zoning Board of Appeals, having fully heard the testimony and arguments of the parties and being fully advised in the premises, hereby makes the following findings of fact: The appellant in this matter stated that it is their belief that the building in question contains eight legal dwelling units and not seven as determined by the Department of Zoning and Land Use Planning. The applicant stated that the property is currently bank owned and that he is the contract purchaser. The appellant also testified that the building has been vacant for five years. He would like to renovate the building. The Department of Zoning and Land Use Planning determined that there are only seven units at the site. The appellant submitted water records and past permits which showed that there have been between six and eight units in the building. The appellant also testified that there are two units on each floor of the building and that the plumbing in each unit is consistent with the units above and below it. Jonathon Splitt, architect testified that the construction is consistent with eight original units. The Board finds that the evidence submitted is sufficient to establish eight dwelling units at this location. The decision of the Zoning Administrator is reversed. A permit shall be obtained to memorialize this decision.
