Academy for Global Citizenship (AGC)
Planned Development Narrative
10/8/2019

Philosophy
The Academy for Global Citizenship is a Chicago Public Charter School, located on the Southwest side of Chicago. Its innovative and holistic approach to education aims to foster systemic change and inspire the way society educates future generations. This school centers its life around seven qualities of the learning environment: Wonder & Belonging, Open and Responsive, Nature and Outdoors, Sustainable & Responsible, Food & Farming, Local & Global Community, and Body & Mind. Additionally, it is the intention of this project to create a replicable model for learning in the 21st century, including the construction of a net-positive energy campus.

Program
According to already completed programming and initial concept studies, the final design should provide approximately 60,000 enclosed square feet, accommodating approximately 600 kids from pre-kindergarten through 8th grade. The new school will be located within the 22nd Ward and will allow the unification of AGC’s two existing sites currently located at the southwest corner of West 47th Street and South Knox Street and its Middle School Annex on West 46th Street where it intersects with South LaPorte Street on the site of Hearst Elementary School. The building footprint is comprised of three long east-west volumes connected by a spine of flexible learning spaces. The southern-most volume contains a Community Hall and gymnasium, both of which are envisioned as active community resources. As such, this area is designed as a self-sufficient unit that can remain open beyond normal school hours.

AGC aspires to be a resource to the community resource and to the world, serving as an incubator for innovative educational programming. To respond to this vision, the Learning Barn not only houses the campus livestock but also long-term accommodations for its farmer-in-residence and other “in-residence” educators. Short-term accommodations in support of professional development that will be offered as a part of the AGC Institute program will also be provided in this same building.

The 6-acre site, located at the northwest corner of West 44th Street and South LaPorte Avenue, will be developed including active agricultural production, livestock, and creative play space within a native landscape that complies with the City of Chicago Landscape Ordinance. The northern boundary is adjacent to the Canadian National Railways railroad and to Route 55 (the Stevenson Expressway) immediately north of the railroad. Beyond the expressway to the north is the Village of Stickney. The western boundary is fully shared with Chicago Park District LeClaire-Hearst Park. AGC is in discussion with the park district to explore shared programming.

It is a goal of AGC to build their new campus as a Net Positive campus capable of producing 105% of its energy needs, doing so without on-site fossil fuel use. To strive for this goal, the school building’s east-west volumes lie below an expansive rooftop photovoltaic array pitched to optimize solar access and to allow ample north daylight. PV arrays are also anticipated for the barn/ AGC Institute residence building and above the parking lot. The building will be clad in a high-performing skin to minimize heat loss and will utilize a geothermal field to provide heating and cooling for the school building. Using these among other sustainable strategies, the final development will comply with or exceed the Chicago Sustainable Development Policy.

\ it's about balance

Property Ownership
The subject property sits within the boundary of the former and now demolished LeClaire Courts housing development and is currently owned by the Chicago Housing Authority. The CHA has divided the larger parcel into three parcels (zones). AGC has placed a deposit on the purchase of the westernmost parcel, Zone 3, for its school. The CHA has recently awarded development rights to Cabrera Capital for development of Zone 1 as a Commercial Mixed-Use development and Zone 2 as a residential development.

Site Information
In the development of this proposed concept, the AGC design team had access to the Phase I and Phase II environmental reports commissioned by the CHA prior to the offering of the property for development. As a part of previous design studies for the property AGC has commissioned a geotechnical report to determine the structural capacity of the soils and a soil chemistry test to validate the nutritional value of the soil for urban agricultural purposes. The design team remains in contact with these experts as the design moves forward.

Public Process to Date
AGC has engaged community stakeholders throughout the design process over the past four years.

- In October of 2015 the school met with a small group of local leaders, including representatives from the Salvation Army, Chicago Park District, and neighbors to do some preliminary neighborhood asset mapping.

- A second meeting was convened in December 2015 at the LeClaire – Hearst Community Center and focused on sharing the diverse history of the community and understanding the way the community has changed since the 1950s.

- In January of 2016, a public hearing was held at the school to further solicit community feedback.

- Throughout 2016, a series of workshops was hosted at the school for our parent community where AGC’s design team presented an overview of the programming for the site and solicited feedback on spaces, ritual and elements of the community that we want to preserve in the new space. Throughout 2017, 2018 and 2019 the parent and local community has been updated on the project’s progress.

- A meeting with the newly-elected Alderman Michael D. Rodriguez is scheduled for August 26 to acquaint him with AGC’s vision of education and with the particulars of the proposed development.
