Project Description	As a response to the COVID-19 pandemic the SPRING Forward Pilot Program will provide housing navigation services to facilitate access to housing and housing supportive services to stabilize returning residents and mitigate the risk of recidivism for residents released from CCJ and IDOC to the City of Chicago. The program will serve returning residents who are at the highest risk of homelessness and recidivism.  The overarching goal of the SPRING Forward Housing Pilot is to build the infrastructure for re-entry housing that is designed to connect individuals released from CCJ and IDOC to permanent housing and housing supportive services. Qualified housing and social service providers will work to identify a supply of housing that meets applicable housing health and safety codes and that can serve individuals exiting the jail and prison system. The pilot is designed to provide a unit-based subsidy supported by an agreement between the Respondent and an approved property owner "Landlord" willing to make the unit available to eligible tenants. The SPRING Forward Housing Navigation Pilot Program will support the following security deposit payments 12-month rental subsidy payments Minimum Habitability Standards inspection MHS a furniture bank allowance housing navigator wages and program supplies.

Total Cumulative Obligations	$0.00
Total Cumulative Expenditures	$0.00
Current Period Obligations	$0.00
Current Period Expenditures	$0.00
Project Description	The Diverse Learners Recovery Fund is dedicated to offering unrestricted one-time cash assistance to low- and moderate-income students with diverse learning needs, particularly those with disabilities. This initiative prioritizes K-12 students who are residents of Chicago, aiming to provide crucial financial support to aid in their educational journey in the aftermath of the COVID-19 pandemic.  The project's primary objective is to alleviate financial burdens for students with diverse learning needs, ensuring they have access to necessary resources and support to thrive academically. The desired outcome is to enhance educational equity and promote inclusivity within the Chicago educational landscape.  Progress towards this goal is measured by tracking the distribution of one-time cash assistance to families of students with disabilities.  Eligibility for the fund is determined based on students' residency in Chicago and their classification as low- or moderate-income individuals with diverse learning needs. This criteria ensures that those most in need of assistance receive support to overcome educational challenges exacerbated by the pandemic.

Project Description	Career Grow Chicago (Workforce Development program) aims to build stability, provide support, & empower our un/underemployed population with access to education & employment opportunities through defined pathways. Focusing on residents residing in high unemployment/poverty areas, Career Grow Chicago fosters collaboration with Community Based Organizations, Business Intermediaries, and Community Education Systems to provide comprehensive wraparound services to these priority areas. The program develops apprenticeships and work-based learning programs geared to provide career pathways and wraparound services to residents entering or re-entering the workforce. The program focuses specifically on populations that are highly vulnerable to COVID-19 and individuals that are underemployed or unemployed, academically below college level and/or lacking high school equivalency, or are eligible for other forms of federal assistance. The main program outcomes focus on job placement and retention, and data on these outcomes are reported by the delegate agencies providing services.

Project Description	Spurred by increased youth arrests for low level offenses during the COVID-19 pandemic, the Youth Justice Diversion Program (YIP) will fund agencies to engage with youth 10-17 years old that have had contact with law enforcement. YIP aims to do this by offering youth citywide up to 90 days of coordinated community services based on risk and need factors. This Program requires an individualized approach based on a needs assessment and case planning with youth and their families. The program targets youth 10-17 who, once referred by the Chicago Police Department (CPD), will be assessed for risk, needs, and strengths and the program will match supervision and intervention strategies with the youth's levels of risk and motivation. With the support of DFSS, awarded agencies will facilitate services through comprehensive, hyper-local community networks, and encourage CPD citywide to refer youth to services in lieu of continued action through the legal system. In addition, awarded agencies will provide restorative justice opportunities to increase accountability for youth and increase public safety. The long-term goal is to limit youth interaction with law enforcement, increase youth access to services, increase youth sense of accountability and safety, and decrease their likelihood of continuing criminal activity. Project outcomes are measured through youth surveys.

Project Description	The Service Coordination and Navigation (SCaN) program provides intensive community-based case management services to youth 14-24 years old who are at the highest risk of violence in 31 target communities. The SCaN program model supports youth at the highest risk of exposure to violence, violent victimization, and active involvement in violence; and that live in the city's community areas with the highest level of violent crimes. The SCaN model aims to reduce youth involvement in violence and improve youth wellbeing by providing youth with services, stability, and a network of community support to guide youth towards a successful transition to adulthood. Program outcome goals include increasing youth self-efficacy; ensuring youth have a network of supportive, caring adults; and supporting youth in meeting their needs and goals to build stability in their lives (i.e., re-engaging and maintaining engagement in school or work, obtaining safe and stable housing, reducing justice involvement, and reducing incidences of violent victimization). Ultimately, we hope that success across these outcome goals will contribute to an overall reduction in youth violence involvement and violence at the community-level.

Project Description	This intervention provides services to meet the needs of young people with violence involvement, both victims and perpetrators, who are underserved by existing City programs. The intervention includes case management and services navigation to connect youth with trauma-informed mental health services, employment support, and other wraparound services. One component of this is a mentoring program in which delegate agencies implement in-school and out-of-school mentoring programs citywide for youth ages 12-24 who are at risk of not transitioning successfully into adulthood. A second component is a career transition program that provides training, work readiness skills, and access to paid employment opportunities for 900 young Chicagoans each year. This program supports participants in growing their employment skills and helps them identify permanent career paths, educational opportunities, and apprenticeship programs. By the end of the program, participants should have identified a career pathway, which can include military or post-secondary education/trade. The primary program outcome is the percentage of participants who demonstrate work readiness skills. Data are collected from delegate agency reports and youth surveys.

	The goal of this program is to improve quality of life for Chicago's most vulnerable residents by helping them attain employment and increase their income. DFSS will partner with delegate and sister agencies to provide career pathways services and apprenticeships to those re-entering the workforce or new industries. Funding will include support services required to stabilize clients and help them attain jobs in industry sectors with wages at or above the City's minimum wage and access long-term career opportunities that increase their income and improve their quality of life.

Project Description	The program also provides supportive career pathway and navigation services through Community Service Re-Entry Centers (CRSCs). CRSCs serve as central hubs for reentry navigation services to support and stabilize residents as they transition from IDOC or Cook County Jail back into the community. The goal is to empower individuals for successful completion of probation, parole, or electronic monitoring, ultimately reducing recidivism. Additionally, CRSCs function as information hubs, addressing community inquiries and sharing local reentry resources. In essence, CRSCs facilitate successful reentry into communities by ensuring timely connections to resources. Program outcomes focus on job placement and retention, and number of referrals to supportive services. Data on clients served and the services they receive are provided by the delegate agencies providing the services.

Project Description	Introducing a robust health and human services helpline, 211 facilitates direct communication for Chicago residents seeking information and referrals. This innovative platform enables individuals to connect via calls, texts, or web chats with live agents, streamlining access to essential resources. By providing a centralized hub for navigating the intricate landscape of social services, 211 alleviates the burden on residents, empowering them to swiftly access the support they require to address the multifaceted challenges stemming from the pandemic's socio-economic and health impacts. Eligibility for assistance through this helpline is universal, ensuring equitable access for all residents in need across Chicago. Progress and effectiveness are measured through data tracking, gauging the frequency and nature of inquiries, user satisfaction surveys, as well as the successful outcomes achieved through referrals made via the helpline.

Brief description of structure and objectives of assistance program(s), including public health or negative economic impact experienced	211 System provides a digital tool to help all residents navigate services and health benefits. The program aims to empower people to utilize technology to access government services. This free and confidential helpline offers 24/7 access to trained, local specialists who connect callers to food, housing, utility assistance, access to health care, and other vital resources. Via the 211 phoneline, text line and webchat, this program increases access to information on health and human services.
Brief description of recipient's approach to ensuring that response is reasonable and proportional to a public health or negative economic impact of Covid-19	The COVID-19 pandemic exacerbated long-standing health, social and economic inequities in the city of Chicago. In the past, residents have had to navigate a complex system of providers and other infrastructure to access the resources they may need, which oftentimes prevented residents from accessing these services. The 211 System call line, text line and web chat provide more speedy, reliable, and easy-to-access information related to health and human service providers.

Project Description	The Community Development Program will allocate grants to address vacancies and subpar conditions along commercial corridors. This initiative will support small businesses by activating storefront interiors through pop-up or longer-term leases, commissioning artists to create engaging exterior pieces, and funding existing small businesses for facade improvements.  Moreover, the POP! Public Outdoor Plaza sub-program will transform vacant lots into temporary public gathering spaces. These areas will accommodate public art projects, temporary sports facilities, and pop-up commercial spaces, revitalizing vacant spaces and enhancing community engagement. The desired outcomes include the number of commercial corridors served, small businesses supported, community events held, and new jobs and businesses created. Progress will be measured by metrics such as increased foot traffic, business growth, community participation, and improvements in corridor aesthetics. Eligibility for grants will be determined based on alignment with the program's goals, capacity to execute proposed initiatives, and potential impact on the community and commercial corridors.

Current Period Expenditures	$215,795.11
Project Description	The Small Business Support Program targets small businesses that were negatively impacted by decreased revenues and higher operating costs caused by the pandemic. The program does this work by coordinating four key initiatives: the Storefront Activation Program, Small Business Grant Program, Small Business Portal, and Small Business Back-Office Support Program. The program provides grants to local community and economic development organizations, who are responsible for developing, operating, and measuring the outcomes of small business activations on commercial corridor(s).  The program provides small business support with helping lease negotiations with landlords, launching activations, and providing ongoing support to ensure the success of these businesses. Funds will go towards storefront rent, utilities, insurance, pop-up licenses, program management and operations support, temporary cosmetic updates to spaces, and marketing expenses.

	Progress is measured by evaluating the success of activations, improvements in small business operations, and economic revitalization within commercial corridors.

Brief description of structure and objectives of assistance program(s), including public health or negative economic impact experienced	The program objective provides technical and financial support to small businesses. The Small Business Support Program accomplishes this by providing small businesses with low-or-no-cost pop-up opportunities in vacant storefronts. It simultaneously mitigates the higher costs facing businesses and creates revenue-generation opportunities for businesses that they would otherwise would not be able to access. Lastly, the program distributes grants for artists to exhibit their work.
Brief description of recipient's approach to ensuring that response is reasonable and proportional to a public health or negative economic impact of Covid-19	This program responds to negative economic harms experienced by small businesses and startups in the form of lost revenue and decreased customer traffic spurred by vacant storefronts contributing to a perception of degradation along major economic corridors. This would be done by leveraging existing programs and community engagement.

Project Description	initiative seeks to address the unique needs of young individuals impacted by these forms of violence.  The project's primary objective is to provide trauma-informed care and support to youth affected by GBV and/or HT, with the ultimate goal of promoting healing, resilience, and empowerment. The desired outcome is to improve the well-being and long-term prospects of participants by equipping them with the necessary resources and coping strategies to navigate their experiences and build positive futures.  Progress towards this goal is measured through various indicators, including participation rates in case management and counseling services, as well as changes in participants' mental health and coping skills over time. Ongoing assessments and feedback mechanisms are utilized to ensure the effectiveness and relevance of the services provided.  Eligibility for the program is based on youths' experiences of GBV and/or HT, ensuring that those most impacted by these forms of violence receive the support they need to recover and thrive. Additionally, the program is designed to be culturally appropriate, recognizing the importance of respecting and honoring participants' diverse backgrounds and identities in the healing process.
	The Gender-Based Violence Victim Services to Young People program aims to deliver age-appropriate, culturally sensitive services to youth affected by gender-based violence (GBV) and/or human trafficking (HT) in Chicago. Through a holistic approach encompassing ongoing comprehensive case management, clinical services, and counseling, this initiative seeds to address the various reads of yours.

Project Description	The Gender-Based Violence Prevention Education Program aims to educate both youth and caregivers about gender-based violence (GBV), with the overarching goal of improving the current and future safety and stability of young individuals. Through comprehensive awareness education and provision of resources for further assistance, this initiative seeks to empower participants with the knowledge and tools necessary to recognize, prevent, and respond to instances of GBV.  The project's primary purpose is to enhance awareness and understanding of GBV among youth and caregivers, equipping them with the skills to identify and address potential risks effectively. The desired outcome is to create safer environments for young individuals by fostering a culture of respect, consent, and healthy relationships.  Progress towards this goal is measured tracking enrollment and participation as well as participant surveys to assessing participants' knowledge acquisition, attitudes, and behaviors related to GBV prevention.  Eligibility for participation in the program is open to both youth and caregivers, ensuring inclusivity and engagement across various demographics. By targeting both groups, the program aims to create a supportive network of individuals committed to preventing GBV and promoting the well-being of young people in their communities.

Project Description	My CHI. My Future. (MCMF) is an initiative designed to connect every young person in Chicago with an out-of-school time program. The implementation of the MCMF community strategy at DFSS involves three new programs across 15 regions most impacted by the COVID-19 pandemic. The three programs include: The Year-Round Safe Spaces for Youth Initiative, which provides year-round programming for youth and families and youth employment opportunities for youth ages 16-24; the Community Anchor Organization Initiative, which provides support for anchor organizations to convene community-based organizations with the goal of strengthening local, youth-serving opportunity ecosystems, and; the Micro-Grant Program, which will provide funding for safe and engaging youth programs within the 15 regions. The outcomes of this program are being measured through survey data collected by delegate agencies from program participants and grant recipients. Surveys are created with support from DFSS to align with program goals and outcomes.

Project Description	The Artist Relief and Works Fund's purpose is to support the arts and culture sector's recovery from the COVID-19 pandemic via administer targeted financial relief for individual artists, creative workers, and cultural organizations with a focus on those not eligible for other federal relief programs. Funds will be administered through a combination of grants, technical assistance support, and creative workforce development programs. Recipients must be artists or arts organizations in order to be eligible for project participation and funding. The program currently includes 3 initiatives: the Chicago Arts Recovery Program, Chicago Arts and Health Pilot, and CityArts Program. The Chicago Arts Recovery Program will focus on large-scale project grants to nonprofit arts organizations and grantee learning cohorts developed alongside each focus area to share results, best practices, and models that can impact the field broadly. The CityArts program will provide general operating grants to organizations that demonstrated income loss due to the pandemic. The Chicago Arts and Health Pilot will strengthen justification for arts and creativity for arts and creativity as community wellness strategies, increase career pathways for creative workers concerned with public health (building a pipeline to job opportunities), and build greater community trust and investment in neighborhood health care resources by increasing participation and access at public health clinics. Project outcomes will be measured by the numbers of engaged artists, arts organizations and community members participating in arts-based activities connected to the project activities.

	The Together We Heal Grants Program is dedicated to funding medium and large-scale projects led by artists and community-based organizations in low and moderate-income neighborhoods across Chicago. Aligned with the pillars of the Year of Healing—""Reflect on Our Past, Reclaim Our Present, Reimagine Our Future"—the program aims to support initiatives that strengthen economic, physical, and social aspects of communities.

Project Description	Through collaborations with civic agencies and local businesses, participants will identify neighborhood priorities and develop multi-year projects that foster dialogue, activate shared spaces, enhance community aesthetics, and celebrate cultural richness. Proposals are encouraged to highlight the history, culture, and assets of each community, leveraging existing creative potential and honoring the organizing legacies of these places.
	Projects encompass various artistic disciplines, including architecture, culinary arts, dance, design, film, literary arts, media arts, music, photography, theater, and visual arts. They should engage the public, inviting interaction through dialogue, activation, and creative problem-solving. Examples of project types include physical improvements, cultural planning processes, storytelling initiatives, cross-sector collaborations, and preservation efforts of local cultural assets and heritage.
	The success of the program will be measured by the number of grants awarded, the completion of funded projects, and the amount of community member engagement in activities and events. Funded projects align with the program's objectives to foster inclusive and dynamic public spaces that reflect the diverse identities and histories of Chicago's neighborhoods.

This program is in response to the negative impact of the pandemic which disproportionately impacted people experiencing homelessness who are both more likely to live in congregate settings where risk of transmission is higher and are more likely to have underlying health conditions that put them at increased risk of severe disease. Due to the pandemic many shelters especially those in congregate settings were forced to operate at partial capacity in 2020 through part of 2022. DFSS will identify an agency to provide and operate a low-barrier shelter that meets the essential elements of a low barrier model as determined by national best practices and successfully operating programs. The agency will provide for basic needs e.g. meals kitchen access showers engage in diversion efforts provide connection to housing options and case management services The proposed project will need to operate 24/7 and commit to policies and procedures that meet a lower barrier threshold for entrance and shelter than typical shelter sites e.g., storage units for possessions facilities for pets.

	FCC is an evidence-based program that combines engagement and alignment of community service providers with short-term nurse home visiting for all birthing persons newborns and their families in a community. The home visit includes a comprehensive physical assessment for the birthing person and infant and connection to resources tailored to the families needs It is a voluntary program that is provided at no cost to families.
Project Description	Key program activities include - Expansion of the current pilot at 4 Chicago birthing hospitals to all 15 birthing hospitals Each hospital will have a team of nurses either hospital based or CDPH public health nurses providing home visits within 3-5 weeks post-partum to Chicago families delivering at the hospital - Expansion of the regional system of community alignment to all 6 regions in Chicago Delegate agencies selected through a RFP process will organize and lead regional community alignment boards consisting of community members health and social service providers The boards using data from the home visits about the needs of families with newborns in their regions will identify and coordinate resources to meet those needs.

Brief description of structure and objectives of assistance program(s), including public health or negative economic impact experienced	Through providing comprehensive visits conducted by trained nurses, families with newborns are provided a well-baby assessment as well as an assessment of the birthing people. This process includes administration of a matrix to help identify needs of a family and generate referrals to care and services accordingly, such mental health care, financial assistance, housing assistance, nutrition benefits, parenting education, and other resources tailored to the need.
Brief description of recipient's approach to ensuring that response is reasonable and proportional to a public health or negative economic impact of Covid-19	Given widespread impact of COVID-19 on pregnant individuals, Treasury re-categorized home visiting as eligible use for impacted communities, not just disproportionately impacted communities. This program aims to address this public health impact of the pandemic on maternal health and documented increases in risk factors including anxiety, stress, depression, and other mental health concerns through home visits.

	As a result of the pandemic commercial corridors across the Project Description	city have seen major reductions in economic activity along with increased public safety concerns. To ensure a strong recovery in commercial corridors, DPD will provide funding to organizations to staff Community Ambassadors on major commercial corridors across the city. Grantees will work with the City of Chicago City to hire and train local community members to create a visible welcoming presence on commercial corridors that will encourage residents and visitors to frequent the local businesses and amenities on that corridor.  Progress towards increased economic activity on commercial corridors served by the program will be measured by pedestrian foot traffic, the sense of safety, and creation of welcoming atmosphere.

Brief description of structure and objectives of assistance program(s), including public health or negative economic impact experienced	This program supports organizations that will work with the City to hire and train community members to serve as ambassadors, creating a visible, welcoming presence at neighborhood commercial centers for residents and visitors. This program will station "street ambassadors" along key commercial corridors to provide a welcoming presence and greater sense of safety, with the intention of increasing customer foot traffic for surrounding businesses.
Brief description of recipient's approach to ensuring that response is reasonable and proportional to a public health or negative economic impact of Covid-19	The Street Ambassadors Program would prioritize corridors that experienced significant commercial closures due to the pandemic. There have been negative economic impacts have affected small businesses, including brick-and-mortar retail, bars, and restaurants. This harm is seen across several commercial activity metrics, including decreased foot traffic. The program seeks to restore commercial activity to pre-pandemic levels.

Project Description	The Tourism and Hospitality Recovery initiative focus on driving tourism, particularly business tourism, throughout the city, while providing direct assistance to hospitality, retail, and live events businesses affected by the pandemic.  The initiative has three main sub-programs. The first program Industry-Focused Events, comprises in-person events designed to support the rebuilding of sectors identified by the City's Recovery Taskforce. These events also offer direct aid to businesses unable to operate live events due to COVID-19 restrictions. The second program spotlights Chicago-based businesses in vacant spaces across the central city. These showcase programs not only highlight local businesses affected by the pandemic but also aim to attract tourists back to commercial corridors impacted by the pandemic's economic downturn. Additionally, the Citywide Marketing program seeks an organization to conduct marketing campaigns aimed at promoting tourism throughout Chicago, with a particular focus on neighborhoods. These efforts will emphasize tourism to various parts of the city, contributing to its overall economic recovery.  The success of these programs will be measured by tracking marketing efforts online and through print materials as well as by tracking engagement at activities and events throughout the city. The initiatives align with the city's broader goals of economic recovery and rebuilding its vibrant tourism industry.

Brief description of structure and objectives of assistance program(s), including public health or negative economic impact experienced	The program supports public events, which reactivates vacant event spaces and associated hospitality businesses. Creating diverse events that appeal to many different industries will encourage an influx of locals and visitors that will stimulate the still rebounding tourism and hospitality sectors. This program also supports the development and implementation of a comprehensive tourism marketing strategy that positions Chicago as a prime destination for residents and visitors alike.
Brief description of recipient's approach to ensuring that response is reasonable and proportional to a public health or negative economic impact of Covid-19	Travel and tourism industry was hard hit by COVID-19 and is still recovering. This program responds to negative economic impacts, specifically a decrease in tourism and hotel industry economic activity. Program beneficiaries are small Chicago businesses directly impacted by COVID-19, with focus on hospitality and event supporting businesses.

	The Rapid Rehousing ARPA Initiative expands upon the successful Expedited Housing Initiative, which was initially funded with $35 million from the CARES Act. The Expedited Housing Initiative aimed to swiftly provide housing for Chicagoans experiencing homelessness, mitigating the health risks associated with COVID-19.  Continuing this investment, the Rapid Rehousing ARPA Initiative aims to further enhance rapid rehousing services for households experiencing homelessness in Chicago. The Project Description	primary objective is to facilitate quick transitions from homeless shelters or unsheltered locations to stable housing.  Services offered under this initiative include housing location assistance, rental subsidies, and comprehensive case management for a duration of up to 24 months.  Progress towards the initiative's goal is measured by tracking the number of households successfully rehoused and monitoring housing stability over time.  Eligibility for the program is determined based on individuals' experiences of homelessness in Chicago, ensuring that those most in need of rapid rehousing services receive timely and effective assistance to secure stable housing.

This is a low-barrier, crisis intervention program, that provides autonomy to participants to be the authors of their housing stability plans. Services are short to mid-term, recipients can begin to think about longer-term goals such as healthcare needs, employment, education, and income.
Brief description of recipient's approach to ensuring that response is reasonable and proportional to a public health or negative economic impact of Covid-19	The Rapid Rehousing Program addresses increased rates of homelessness, specifically the need for rapid rehousing to non-congregate settings. Households are identified for rapid rehousing services based on prioritization criteria approved by the Chicago Continuum of Care. Under the Coordinated Entry Temporary Prioritization 2.0, households who are at risk of severe complication from COVID-19 are prioritized for housing.

Project Description	The CSCC is a multi-agency coordination center that utilizes the lessons learned from the City's coordinated response to the COVID-19 pandemic. During the pandemic, the City of Chicago saw a significant increase in crime plagued the City of Chicago. Longstanding structural inequities meant that low-income and working-class Chicagoans were more vulnerable both to the disease and impact of disease mitigation strategies.  As a result, Chicago saw dramatic increases in homicides and after near historic lows in in years leading up to the pandemic in 2020. The CSCC's objectives are:  1. To ensure violence prevention and reduction is community-led with support from City staff and resources, which are identified by the community;  2. To create new collaboration opportunities amongst City staff, community organizations, and others with existing roles in the violence prevention and reduction space and 3. To create the systems for data collection, analysis, and mapping needed to ensure a data-driven approach to violence prevention and reduction.  These efforts are designed to provide targeted support for the individuals most at risk of violence in the 15-priority communities in Chicago.

	Funding will be used for CCSC operational support, marketing for violence prevention and reduction, expansion of resources for violence intervention programming, and support for community safety initiatives. CSCC's efforts will be measured in the number of coordination efforts led by CSCC and individuals in the targeted areas who engage with these programs.

Brief description of recipient's approach to ensuring that response is reasonable and proportional to a public health or negative economic impact of Covid-19	The gun violence epidemic was exacerbated by the COVID-19 pandemic, resulting in increases in the number of non-fatal shootings in all 77 neighborhoods. Longstanding structural inequities meant that low-income and working-class residents were more vulnerable to COVID-19 and the economic hardships due to the pandemic. Due to these conditions, Chicago experienced an increase in homicides and shooting victims. The CSCC coordinates community-led, data informed solutions to gun violence.

	As the pandemic struck in early 2020, the City of Chicago

Project Description	experienced a notable surge in shooting incidents, thefts, victimizations, and homicides. Longstanding structural inequities meant that low-income and working-class Chicagoans were more vulnerable both to the disease and to the impact of disease mitigation strategies (e.g., economic fallout of the shutdown). As a result, Chicago saw dramatic increases in incidents of violence after near-historic lows prior to the pandemic, disproportionately impacting areas historically burdened by community violence.  In response, the City's Place-Based violence prevention strategy aims to coordinate community safety services and supports in the 15 priority communities most impacted by violence. This strategy involves addressing infrastructure needs, enhancing access to safe spaces, and implementing initiatives such as the Home and Business Protection Program, which equips residents with security devices at no cost.  The desired outcomes of these interventions include increased coordination of community safety resources through public safety planning tables, beautification of physical spaces to create safe environments, and enhancement of public safety perception through the provision of security devices. Ultimately, these efforts seek to improve public safety perception and reduce shooting victimizations within the prioritized communities.

Project Description	CDPH's Community Violence Intervention program, known as the Street Outreach initiative, supports and engages individuals (typically older youth and adults 18 - 34 years) who are at the highest risk of participation in violence. Individuals may be at risk of participating in violence due to a number of factors, including a history of involvement in violence, incarceration, law enforcement encounters, exposure to violence and trauma, and possibly school and employment setbacks. The program targets individuals in the 15-priority community areas with the most persistent levels of serious and lethal violence (i.e., homicide).  Street Outreach teams are trained and deployed to canvas and promote prosocial activities in the target communities. The teams also offer violence interruption services and case management engagement designed to connect participants to unmet service needs including mental health, assistance with employment exploration, legal advocacy and other wraparound services that steer individuals away from violence and toward positive outcomes. The desired outcomes for the program are to interrupt violent incidents that lead to violence and homicide, promote healing, and improve the trajectory of at-risk individuals in our most-impacted communities. Progress is measured by the rate of reduction in crisis incidents year over year.
