

INTRODUCTION

A recent study found a substantial group of Chicago residents do not feel well-informed or confident to make a decision about being vaccinated, or feel less urgency to do so.

We also know that for these residents, outside of personal healthcare providers, friends and family are some of the most trusted sources for information about the COVID-19 vaccine.

This speaks to a need for increased visibility around the vaccine, with the aim of making it seem more prevalent and normalized.

In this toolkit, you will find information about the COVID-19 vaccine and timely updates, as well as information about vaccination sites, to share with your network.
