

Scholarship Pages

Below are some links to scholarship resources I hope you will find helpful. Many of the deadlines are fast-approaching and some require numerous items for the application packet. My office also has a copy of Yoki's National Scholarship Book that has over 100 pages of funding resources that you can come by and look at. If you find that a link is not working, you may want to do an internet search for the title of the scholarship.

Community Scholarship Initiative

This is a tremendous resource with over 100 scholarship opportunities in a wide range of programs for both undergraduate and graduate students. You can either download the Word doc with all of the scholarship information by clicking here or you can stop by the 3rd Ward office to look at it.

City Year/Americorps

Graduating seniors who are not sure what they want to do after high school should consider applying for a paid community service position with City Year, Washington, DC., a group of 17-24 year olds committed to full-time service for ten months in the Washington, DC community. Benefits include: living stipend ($200 per week), health care coverage, free metro pass, and $4,725 educational scholarship. For more info, visit www.cityyear.org or call (202) 776-7780, Amanda Seligman.

The Congressional Black Caucus is offering perspective college students the opportunity to take advantage of a variety of scholarships for academic programs ranging from performing and fine arts to health and education as well as ones that are need-based. Click on the above banner to visit the CBC website page where you can download applications for all of the scholarships available. Applicants must live in a Congressional District represented by a CBC member and applications must be submitted to the Congressman's office. There are three Congressmen in Chicago who are CBC members. They are Bobby Rush (1st district), Jesse Jackson Jr. (2nd district), and Danny K. Davis (7th District). Click here to see the district maps and determine if you live in an eligible area. The deadline for submission is April 30, 2009.

The Chicago Urban League Scholarship Program includes awards funded by various donors to support students needing financial assistance to begin or continue their post-secondary education. Illinois residents who have a minimum of a 2.5 GPA and meet the specific requirements of each scholarship should fill out an application. To learn more about each award, the requirements, and download the applications, click on the image to go to their website. You may also contact the Chicago Urban League's Education Department at (773) 451-3565 or kraglin@cul-chicago.org. The deadline for all application materials is March 20, 2009. Many of the awards require letters of recommendation, so do not delay.
